

MUCH HAS BEEN DONE

By the International Peace Congress in Favor of Its Purpose.

Notes From Various Powers

Show That Many Arbitration Treaties Have Already Been Entered Into and That a Number of Similar Treaties Are Being Negotiated.

Boston, Oct. 5.—At the assembling of the International Peace Congress, President Robert Treat Paine read a number of communications including a greeting received from Gaston Bloch, of France, president of the congress at Monaco two years ago. J. J. G. Alexander of England, chairman of the committee on treaty arbitrations, presented a detailed statement of answers received from various countries to questions sent out by the bureau at Bern on the development of the treaty movement in the several nations. Almost all nations reported new treaties formed or negotiations for additional treaties under way. The following resolutions were recommended for passage:

The congress records its lively satisfaction at the signature of permanent and obligatory treaties since its last session between France and Great Britain, Great Britain and Italy, France and Italy, France and Spain, Great Britain and Spain, Spain and Portugal, Denmark and The Netherlands, Great Britain and Germany, Sweden and Norway, and Great Britain and Norway. The congress congratulates the governments of these various countries on having thus taken important steps in the path of judicial relations between nations opened by the Hague convention. It trusts that the examples thus given will shortly be followed by many other powers. The congress especially rejoices at the statement recently made by the president of the United States that his government is now taking steps to secure arbitration treaties with all governments which are willing to enter into them and thus many such treaties will soon be concluded. The congress also especially congratulates the government of Denmark and the Netherlands on having entered into treaty of arbitration containing no reserves whatever and commends this as a model form for the further treaties.

The congress noting with satisfaction that the different states are more and more introducing arbitration clauses into their various treaties, and especially in treaties of commerce, urges on the governments that in future the clause should refer to the Hague court as the arbiters of all conflicts that may arise out of the interpretation of these treaties.

This congress warmly endorses the recommendation made by joint resolution of both houses of the Massachusetts legislature in favor of an international congress to meet at a stated period to deliberate upon questions of common interest to the nations and to make recommendations thereon to the governments.

When Peace starts on his next dash for the Pole he must get a lot of laps and then make dear old Kuropatkin to him in time. The world will be no more the place then.

HUNGARIANS FOR PARKER.

Want Man For President Who Has His Hand on the Constitution.

New York, Oct. 5.—A delegation from the Hungarian democratic league of greater New York called on Judge Parker at the hotel South today at 12 o'clock. He had finished his lunch before he had finished his lunch. Morris Chisler of the league said to the delegation that Judge Parker is a man who has his hand on the constitution. He said that the Hungarians in the United States are not going to let a man who has his hand on the constitution go. He said that the Hungarians in New York are 70 per cent of them will vote for Parker and Davis. We may be warlike by nature but we are not for constitutional government. We would rather have you for president with your hand on the constitution than Roosevelt with his hand on the sword.

MESSAGE OF UNITY

Brought to Churchmen by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Scholarly and Earnest Talk

To Episcopal Convocation by England's Great Divine. Urges Ceaseless Fight, for Renewal Religious Home Life, and Against Impurity and Selfishness.

Boston, Oct. 6.—When the house of deputies of the Episcopal church assembled for the second session in Emmanuel church today there was a large attendance of visitors in anticipation of the presence of the Archbishop of Canterbury who yesterday announced that in the house of deputies he would deliver a message to the American church. The convention has appointed a committee to frame a message of greeting to the International Peace Congress, some of whose delegates are also delegates in the church convention. One of these is Robert Treat Paine, president of the peace meeting.

The triennial conference of the woman's auxiliary to the board of missions was formally opened today with a full service in Trinity church at which the united offer of the convention was made. The speaker was Right Rev. William Lawrence, D. D., bishop of Massachusetts.

Later the woman's auxiliary held a largely attended missionary meeting in Tremont Temple. Bishop Lawrence welcomed the visiting women. Among the speakers were Bishops Maken, of Toledo, Brent of the Philippine Islands, the Rev. Arthur Lloyd D. D., of New York, general secretary of the board of missions, and Bishop Johnson of western Texas.

The house of bishops continued its sessions behind closed doors.

In the house of deputies J. Cameron Brown, a lay deputy from Winston, N. C., attempted to introduce a resolution criticizing Bishop Potter of New York, for participating in the opening of the subway tavern in New York city but he was interrupted by a point of order which was sustained that the house of deputies could not criticize a member of the house of bishops. At noon the house of bishops adjourned and escorted the archbishop of Canterbury into the chamber of the house of deputies where the archbishop addressed the combined bodies.

He said in part:

I come to tell you of the absorbing interest with which we English watch your gathering strength, your constantly increasing use of the apparently boundless opportunities which are multiplying daily to your hands and of our fellowship in your prayers for the spirit of wisdom and understanding, of council and of strength.

It is noteworthy that I should be in touch during the last few weeks with a daily succession of your foremost men and have learned so much about the things which are at issue. Your problems are not all of them our problems. Of some of ours, and especially of some which concern the United States we have no experience whatever. Others we have ample knowledge of, but under conditions so different from your own as to render the comparison academic, rather than practically serviceable.

Anyhow, this at least is certain, that beneath them all we find an underlying element which is absolutely common to us both, an atmospheric stratum peculiar, I think to religious life and energy, wherein are our organisms, perplexing and even baneful, as well as organisms healthful and active for good. Among them is the temptation common to rectorial laymen and clergy every clime and in every century—the temptation to give 'means' rather than 'ends' the main place in our thoughts, the temptation to lose the true proportion, the temptation to take a petty view of what life's issues really are.

On the other hand, it is in the same atmosphere happily common to us all, that we find the invigorating and healthful forces on which we can thankfully rely, the high enthusiasm and the pure resolve which spring from our definite and unswerving hold on the church's creed. I suppose it is true to say that the business of any convention or council of the church consists largely in their asserting the superiority of the end over the 'means'—in firmly subordinating machinery to that which machinery is intended to produce and in readjusting and adapting that machinery so as to insure that what we are striving after, shall be really attained, and that neither inside nor outside our walls shall there be any doubt as to what our main purpose is. And that purpose thought large and deep and high, surely identical on whichever side of the ocean the work field lies. Naturally we want by all means, to make certain that our church system, and our church rules and canons and our church services are loyal and orthodox, are coherent and straight forward, are reverent and helpful to those for whose good they are devised and that our manner of worship is of the sort to evoke the very best that men can offer.

But at this juncture as it seems to me the paramount necessity of all is that which concerns the family and the home, the common work day life, that, in short, of the Christian people at large. But it would be vain to ignore the warning which tells us—on either side of the sea—of a certain decadence in the definitely religious life of the ordinary home—a fading off that is, in the very force which give its distinctive inspiration and its distinctive power to so much of our grandeur's life. If that be true, it surely behooves every gathering of churchmen to consider well what they can do to safeguard the men of and women and above all, the children of America and England.

Be it ours, be it yours when an ecclesiastical assembly big or little, meets for high deliberation and executive resolve to set ourselves to estimate and deal with the abiding level of our common life.

People speak, sometimes, of the 'ties and links' which unite our church in England with yours. But are the words appropriate? We are learning, I hope to regard the relationship, in all essential things, as one of identity rather than one as affinal or fraternal. Our spiritual ancestry down to very recent days is absolutely one. Our power of mutual society, help and comfort, has been proved and proved again. If my presence in your convention be permitted, in the providence of God to promote in any degree the efficiency of our church's life as a banded force for the bettering of what is amiss in public or in private things—for the ceaseless fight against the impurity and selfishness and greed made against ignorance and apathy, against cowardice and half heartedness—I shall rejoice indeed.

CHAIRMAN TAGGART ISSUES STATEMENT.

Judge Parker Will Not Go on the Stump. Clamor Will Not Move Him One iota From Decision.

New York, Oct. 6.—Chairman Taggart at democratic national headquarters gave out the following statement today:

Shortly after his nomination Judge Parker set about the consideration of his course of action toward the conduct of the campaign. He consulted many men of large experience in such matters and made an examination of the course of every successful candidate. That done, he decided as it was necessary for him to do what his course should be and he caused that decision to be generally known. It was to the effect that he would not go on the stump that such speeches as he should deem it desirable to make could be made at Rosemount following in that respect the McKinley precedent of 1896.

That decision made and announced he proceeded to work along the lines he had marked out for himself. He believed then—as he believes now—that he decided rightly and was proud of entering would lodge him. His record during all his life proves that clamor will not move him one iota. The incident is closed and those in charge of the campaign fully approve of the determination of Judge Parker.

Judge Parker has been importuned to speak in various states and this statement is designed to answer them.

CAREFUL AS TO DETAILS

Was Ex-Sheriff Killen, of Mercer Co. Who Resorted to Self-Destruction.

News was flashed to Lima from Celina this morning that James F. Killen, ex-sheriff of Mercer county, and holding at present the office of township clerk, had taken his life, his body being found in his office at 5 o'clock.

He had planned the suicide with the greatest nicety, and resorted to a means at once certain and painless. Securing a half-pint bottle of chloroform, under pretense of wanting to use it to kill an aged pony, he repaired to his office and poured the contents into a cigar box packed with cotton. Seated in a chair opposite, he buried his face in the deadly fumes and in that position was found cold in death. Further than that he had been in ill health no cause is given for the deed but it is known that a sealed letter was left for his wife and a brother who lives at Portland, Ind.

The latter has been notified and it is expected that a further statement will be made upon the brother's arrival.

The deceased was born in 1837, and leaves a wife and daughter. He has been prominent in the official life of Mercer county, having served three terms as sheriff since 1886, was also township director for six years and township clerk at the time of his death. He did service as a member of the union army, being registered as one of the boys of Co. B 71st O. V. army of the Cumberland.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 6.—A Journal special from St. Joseph, Mich., says that Rheinhold Perlick, a lad employed in Happs boat overy, went to South Haven today and identified the woman's body found last week near that place as the woman who occupied a boat rented by an unknown man from the livery in St. Joseph on September 19th, which was not returned, but was found last week on the beach. Chief of Police Sauter says that he has a man in a nearby city under surveillance whom he suspects of being the renter of the boat and the companion of the woman when they left the livery. Both the man and woman were strangers to the employees of the boat livery.

GAVE

His Daughter In Marriage

And Performed

The Sacred Nuptial Ceremony.

Rev J. M. Mills Officiated at a Brilliant Wedding Last Night.

Miss Nellie Whyte, One of Lima's Charming Daughters, Becomes the Bride of Kennard Hoover, a Promising Young Man.

The Mills home on west Market street was in festive attire last evening the interior clothed in foliage of nature's richest colorings, the bright hues of wild asters, sunnyside, buttercups, and wood-violets, the occasion of the wedding of the daughter of the householder, Miss Marie and Mr. Gibson P. Dilline both very popular young people.

As Prof. Chas. Richmond played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin the bride slowly descended the stairs preceded by the maid of honor, Miss Laura Borges, who led the way to the altar, which was a mass of white flowers, where they were met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Harry Orthwein.

Dr. J. M. Mills, father of the bride with the full marriage ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal church, performed a dual service that of giving in marriage his daughter and pronouncing the words which united them for all time—making the ceremony a most impressive one.

The bride a lovely girl at all times was particularly so in her bridal robes. Her gown was of white embroidered crepe de chene with a train of rose applique. Her veil, which reached to the bottom of the skirt, was fastened to the hair with a white rose bud. A string of pearls worn at the top of a high collar and a pearl and diamond brooch, a gift from the groom, completed her toilet. Her flowers were brides roses. The maid of honor wore a gown of white chamois silk trimmed with thread lace and carried pink and white roses.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a two course wedding supper was served.

The array of wedding gifts was both beautiful and costly, with scarcely a duplicate, a circumstance of rare occurrence and each article will occupy a particular place of its own in the home making of the bride.

The bride's going-away gown was of brown broad cloth with hat and gloves en suite.

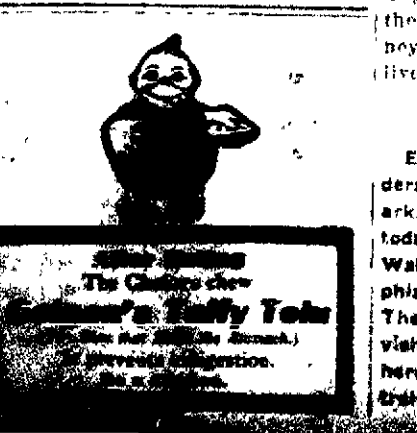

They left at 1:45 for St. Louis and when they return will be at home to their friends on south Baxter street.

Those present from out of the city were: Mr. and Mrs. Dilline and the Misses Dilline parents and sisters of the groom from Toledo; Mrs. Orcutt of Defiance; Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Casam, of Delphos; Mrs. W. H. Jackson and daughters of Chicago; Mrs. Kimball Rakestraw and daughter Ruth of Defiance; Miss Dora Stahl of Tiffin; Mr. Charles Cramer of Mendon; Miss Helen J. Innis Elmira N. Y.; Dr. Bolt of Ada and Rev. Harford of Port.

Last evening, a very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of west Wayne street when Miss Eleanor M. Whyte and Mr. Kennard Clair Hoover were united in marriage.

A few minutes before seven o'clock, Mrs. John Gore of Findlay, began the Mendelssohn wedding march and the bride, attended by Mrs. Lewis Hofmann and the groom with his best man, Mr. Lewis Hofmann entered from opposite directions, meeting Rev. G. F. Gladding Hoyt of Christ Episcopal church, in the east window of the parlor which was banked with palms, and here they plighted their troth. During the ceremony Mrs. C. S. Baxter sang "Your Lips Have Told Me That You Love Me."

The bride's gown was of white tulle, to which were fastened a pointed train and a long veil. The bride's hair was styled in a bun and she wore a long veil.

grace and carried brides' roses. The matron of honor was attired in her bridal gown and carried pink roses. At the conclusion of the ceremonies, cakes, bon-bons and coffee were served in the dining room. The table in this room was beautiful with its pink shaded candles, which were on the buffet also.

The bride and groom left at 9:40 for a wedding trip of two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover are fine young people and have the best wishes of hosts of friends who will wish them a long life of prosperity and happiness.

FOUR

Generations Were Represented

In The Crowd

Of Relatives Who Met at Cridersville.

To Celebrate the Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Dodson.

Bride and Groom of Fifty Years Receive Many Presents and Were Given an Old Fashioned Belling.

A very merry group of people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dodson, Sr. of Cridersville last Wednesday September 28th, to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding.

The home was appropriately decorated in white and gold. The day was beautiful and scarcely had it begun, when the merry voices of children were heard and the cry of "Grand Pa" came from a dozen little throats. It is given only to a few couples to live fifty such beautiful years together. "Uncle Tom," as he is familiarly called, is one of the best-known men in the vicinity of Lima, and he is everybody's friend. His wife, homelike in her tastes and simple in her manner, has been to him a faithful companion from the time she helped him clear the forest near their home for $8 an acre to the days of old age and plenty.

There were present at the golden wedding, a family of 51. Of the first generation there were two, their steps trembling, their eyes dim, but their heads crowned with the glory of fifty honest years together, and their hearts light with the promise of the future. Of the second generation there were 15. Mr. Isaac Dodson, of Pierre, S. D., not being able to be present, was represented by his wife and son. Of the third generation there were 29, a merry group of boys and girls, who give full promise that the name of Dodson will not soon die out. Of the fourth generation there were two, the babies of the children—children. Six other friends were present to enjoy this family meeting.

After a bountiful dinner the "bells of fifty years" was presented with a ring, which the groom placed upon her hand with a renewed promise of love and fidelity. The "groom" received a handsome gold watch and a whole basket of valuable and beautiful presents were handed to the couple, to be taken to the love and store of their children and friends present. The afternoon was spent in singing, speaking, reminiscences and merry talk. At sundown the party broke up, wishing the happy couple a bon voyage.

In the evening about fifty ladies gathered at the home of Mr. Ezra DeLong just across the street from "Uncle Tom's" and forming a line of march, armed with tin horns, sleigh bells, cow bells, tin pans and all kind of musical instruments that are usually put in use on an occasion of this kind, marched in through the back gate into the house and gave the bride and groom of fifty years a regular old-fashioned belling which "Uncle Tom" admits was done in apple-pie order. After this, there was a general hand-shaking and wishing, the old folks a safe and happy journey through the remainder of their lives.

AIR BRAKES.

How They Are Made and How They Are Applied on Trains.

Every one has heard of the air brake and references to it are sure to be made when the subject of protection against railroad accidents is under discussion, but like many inventions in common use it is more or less of a mystery, for which an explanation is demanded from time to time.

The modern air brake consists of twelve parts, among which are the air pump, which compresses the air; a main reservoir, in which the air is stored; the engineer's brake valve, regulating the flow of air; the train pipe, which connects the brake valve with the triple valves under each car; the quick action triple valve, controlling the flow of air to and from the auxiliary reservoir, which is supplied from the main reservoir; and the brake cylinder piston rod, which is forced outward, thereby applying the brakes.

The theory of the air brake is the equalization of pressures. When the brakes are not in action the pressure on the train pipe is made such as to prevent an escape of air from the auxiliary reservoir. When the engineer desires to make an application of brakes he turns his brake valve so that there is a moderate reduction of the pressure in the train pipe. This causes the greater pressure in the auxiliary reservoir to force air into the brake cylinder, forcing the piston out and applying the brakes.

When it is desired to release the brakes the engineer turns his valve in the opposite direction, permitting the air to flow from the main reservoir, located on the engine, into the train pipe. When the pressure thus restored in the train pipe is increased above the pressure in the auxiliary reservoir certain valves are moved, communication is thereby restored between train pipe and auxiliary reservoir, the piston is forced to its normal position, the air escapes from the brake cylinder, and the auxiliary reservoir is recharged through the train pipe.

When the train breaks in two or a hose pipe connection is broken it has the effect of a sudden and material reduction of the pressure in the train pipe, the same as though the engineer had made an emergency application. The sudden reduction of pressure also opens supplementary valves, which increase the pressure upon the brake cylinder about 20 per cent. The brake shoes are attached to rods, which are in turn attached to the piston in such manner that when the air from the auxiliary reservoir forces the latter out a pulling force is exerted upon the brakes.—Chicago Record-Herald.

LOVE IN JAPAN.

It Is Very Different From That Which Warms the Western Heart.

The boys and girls, the young men and young women of Japan do not love each other, I suppose, but one never sees the slightest shadow of evidence to prove it. The spirit of love does not dominate the national life as it does in America and the countries of Europe. Japan's poets do not sing of love; her story writers tell no tales of love that can thrill an Anglo-Saxon heart, and her artists paint no pictures of love that can reach the Anglo-Saxon understanding. Now, considering all this, how can there be such a thing as "a good old summer time" in this land of sunnyside? And yet there is, and it is especially delightful in its way, too, because the Japanese are a nation of fasteners and puncturers, of nature lovers and world beautifiers, and if one can only lose sight of the fact that everywhere one goes the poor little women toddle meekly along behind the men, who stalk pompously ahead as if they owned the earth, one may almost enjoy oneself.

One never sees a woman dressed in Japan, not even with a glance, one seldom sees a lady tucked in, but all human tenderness or expression of human tenderness is conspicuous by its absence, and I believe that is the one impossible great fault that is fixed between us and this people. And yet the people are happy, with a simple, sweet happiness that is charming. That is it. It is an atmosphere that mingles charms, but never thrills, the western heart. All the nation's love is concentrated upon the emperor, and the highest note of the national life is sounded in Yamato dani, Japan's national anthem, and even this is beyond comprehension, because it is empty of human and unsatisfactory to us, who cannot separate the interests of "far women and brave men" even upon the battlefield.—Eleanor Franklin in Leslie's Weekly.

Malay Peninsula Diet.

"Probably the most varied diet in the world," said a traveler who had just returned from the Malay peninsula, "is that of the Jakans of the Sea, or Orang Lauts, who are the real Malay pirates. These people have about all that there is to eat, and they eat everything as it comes along. Although they have all kinds of fine fruits, at certain times of the year they eat a yam which is so poisonous that they have to grate it and mix it with slaked lime before they dare swallow it. In the way of flesh they eat monkeys, deer, wild pig, birds, sea porcupines, manis, squirrels, rats, mice and snakes. And they seem to turn from venison to rat or from wild pig to snake with equal appetite."

An English Joke.

"What people are always sure of finding the biggest fish near their coast?"

"Give it up."

FRUITFUL OLD AGE.

Fast Working in Their Spheres Who Were Fast Recently.

The tall, handsome, myriad minded Goethe wrought at his tasks till he was nearly eighty-three years old. He produced the first part of his masterpiece, "Faust," at fifty-seven, the second part when eighty years old, and wrote some of his most beautiful poems at seventy-five. Six of our foremost American poets, and all but one in quantity as well as in quality of verse—Bryant, Whittier, Longfellow, Lowell, Holmes and Emerson—lived to ages varying from seventy-five to eighty-five and were productive to the last. Dr. Holmes wrote in his eighty-fifth year that "time does not threaten the old man so often with the scythe as with the scythe." yet he wrote brilliant verse for special occasions almost to the end.

Theodor Mommsen, the historian, a man of almost insignificant stature and emaciated frame, manifested in his eighty-sixth and last year the energy of a man in middle life. The Earl of Dundonald, though he was always in hot water and his whole life was a series of quarrels—though he performed some of the most darddevil feats recorded in the history of naval warfare, winning many brilliant victories against enormous odds—lived to eighty-five and wrote his history of the liberation of Peru, Chile and Brazil and "The Autobiography of a Seaman," two most vigorous, lucid and dashing works, under the stress of intense physical pain in the last three years of his life.

Sir Charles James Napier, the hero of Scinde, was sixty before he held any great command. He fought and won great battles, governed successfully great provinces and achieved a great name long after that period of life had passed when, according to an antique morality not quite exploded, it behooves a man to lay aside the things of the present life and to prepare his soul for the next.—Saturday Evening Post.

In Honor of Birth-day Given

Mr Wm. Leedy.

Also a Farewell Given the Whitneys,

At the Home of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Askew, Last Evening.

Mack and De Voe Have Hard Work Getting Rid of Their Dogs - South Side Items.

Friends and neighbors gave Mr. William Leedy a very pleasant reminder of his fortieth birthday anniversary, last Tuesday evening. A neighbor had invited Mr. Leedy over to spend the evening, and while the two were passing the time at a game of euchre, the crowd gathered at the Leedy home, 628 south Metcalf street. Everything being in readiness, a messenger was sent to escort Mr. Leedy to his home, and when he arrived he was confronted by the following persons who helped to pass the time away at pedro, euchre and partaking of refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. George Grant and son, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Page, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Obenour, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Verbrake, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. John Stanley, Mrs. M. E. Hissong, Mrs. Ed. Wallace, Misses Lydia and Nellie Obenour and Mamie Brooker, Messrs. Carl Hadsell, Harry McDonald and Mortimer Obenour.

Disposing of Their Kennel.
All day long yesterday Frank De Voe and John Mack, of the south side house, were busy engaged in making a department crate in which to ship a few of their dogs. This morning there was noise in the air when six dogs of different breeds (one pure, one water spaniel, one par dog, one mongrel, one half-breed, one half-breed shepherd, and a sky terrier, were housed in the box ready to be conveyed to Mr. George Ward (Lima, Ohio). No doubt Mr. Ward will be delighted to receive this bunch of yelpers, and Lima will be more pleased to get rid of them.

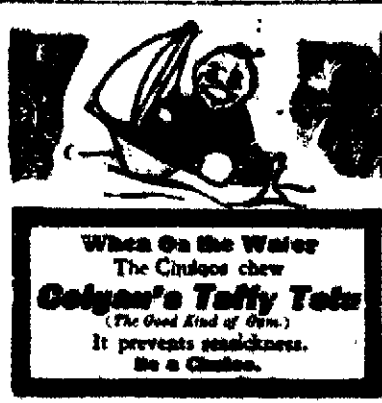

Gave Them a Pleasant Farewell.
In a few days Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Whitney, of west Circular street, will leave for Lockport, N. Y. from whence they came prior to Mr. Whitney being called to take the vintnership of the local L. E. & W. yards. Last evening, at the A. S. Askew home, on south West street, the Whitneys were to receive a farewell social. The party went to the auditorium early in the evening, where they enjoyed dancing for an hour or so, then returned to the Askew home, where music, games and social chats were indulged in, thus proving to Mr. and Mrs. Whitney that they were highly appreciated as neighbors and friends.

THE STONE BREAKER.

An Example of Content in Slavery but Monotonous Toil.

In my country of Alsace, on the solitary route whose interminable ribbon stretches on and on under the forests of the Vosges, there is a stone breaker whom I have seen at his work for thirty years. The first time I came upon him I was a young student setting out with swelling heart for the great city. The sight of this man did me good, for he was humming a song as he broke his stones. We exchanged a few words, and he said at the end, "Well goodby, my boy, good courage and good luck!" Since then I have passed and repassed along the same route under circumstances the most diverse, painful and joyful. The student has finished his course; the breaker of stones remains what he was. He has taken a few more precautions against the seasons' storms—a rush mat protects his back, and his felt hat is drawn further down to shield his face. But the forest is always sending back the echo of his valiant hammer. How many sudden tempests have broken over his bent back, how much adverse fate has fallen on his head, on his house, on his country! He continues to break his stones, and coming and going I find him by the roadside smiling in spite of his age and his wrinkles, benevolent, speaking—above all in dark days—those simple words of brave men which have so much effect when they are scanned to the breaking of stones.—From "The Simple Life," by Charles Wagner.

A SHREWD OLD LADY.

How She Got Her Will Drafted and Foisted Her Lawyer.

A certain lawyer, famed for high charges, had incurred the enmity of an old lady on account of the same. Wishing to get even with him, she consulted him about drafting her will. As she was a very wealthy old lady, and near relatives, she had many charitable associations to benefit, and the accurate draft of the will required much patience, skill and time. Among the provisions she made a generous bequest to this lawyer and nominated him executor. After the execution of the will she called for her bill, whereupon the lawyer, with the vision of ample fees in the prospective settlement of the estate and the memory of the generous bequest, told her old lady that under the circumstances he should charge nothing, but finally, to satisfy her business scruples, made out a receipt in full to date for $1, whereas the smallest sum he could have properly charged would have been $100.

The old lady marched home with her will, set herself to work, copied it out carefully word for word, leaving out the bequest to the lawyer and nominating a new executor.

In the course of time she died, and the design of the lawyer at the contents of the will was so great that he indignantly let out the secret to the huge delight of his brother lawyers.—Ladies Monthly.

The Sacred Twelve.

The patriarchal and apostolical number of twelve, as the proper and only admissible number for a jury trying cases according to the common law, has come down to us from remote antiquity. Yet this number was not at all universal. In 1542 a Cornish custom to have juries of six was declared to be bad, but evidence was given that such juries had been widely used in the county, and by a special statute of Henry VIII. juries of six were allowed in Wales. But the jury of the grand assize consisted of sixteen men, which still finds a parallel in the jury of precentors of the Liberty of the Saxons. The modern grand jury, the coroner's jury and the jury at luncheon and evening sessions, number anything between twelve and twenty-three, whereas twelve at least must agree on a verdict.—London Law Journal.

Gordon's Sudan Throne.

Gordon's Sudan throne is a folding chair he always sat in at Khartoum and carried with him on his camel journeys. It was a little straight backed chair, having a skeleton frame of round iron, a carpet back and seat, gilt knobs for ornament, and small pads on the arms for comfort. The carpet had grown dim in the African sun, which deprived it of all royal pretensions, so that when Gordon returned from his governorship of the Sudan and suddenly asked, "Where is my throne?" He had been brought in? They were all surprised. His throne! Nobody had seen a throne. But at length the camp stool was found where it had been stowed away.—Chambers' Journal.

Dumas' Bottled Juice.

Not every one has so successful a method with the autograph brand as Alexander Dumas had. Prince Metternich once requested an autograph of him. Dumas wrote in his best round hand, "Received from Prince Metternich twenty-five bottles of his oldest Johannisberg." Metternich sent the wine with a good grace.

Rule For Creptists.

One of the rules of a bicycle club reads, "A horse should never be passed on both sides at once." We suspect that when a cyclist attempts to pass on both sides of a horse "at once" he is expelled from the club. He would certainly be dismissed from a temperance organization.—London Tit-Bits.

IRON

Market Making Good Progress.

Prices Show

More Firmness From Day to Day.

Situation Apart From Pig Iron Is Better in Number of Lines.

Indications Point to Heavier Shipment of Superior Ore This Year Than Has Been Counted Upon by Authorities.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 6.—The Iron Trade review in its weekly review of iron market says:

Guaged by pig iron alone, the iron market improvement has made further progress. Not as marked betterment is described in finished material demand, but developments there are encouraging, with prospects that the larger scale of mill operations will last well toward the end of the year. It need hardly be said that the railroad will be the deciding factor in the iron market of the next three months. The more active market for foundry iron that was a feature of the last ten days of September is still noteworthy, and reports from all sections now agree as to this, as they did not ten days ago. Foundries are finding an increasing demand for their products, not a marked increase, but enough to begot confidence, and to lead to buying. The number of inquiries and the good aggregate tonnage they represent, for pig iron to be delivered in the first quarter of 1905, indicates a growing desire to take advantage of present low prices. It is an indication also that many foundries are provided with enough iron for the balance of the year.

Prices show more firmness and in the case of northern furnaces there has been a general coming up from the minimum of $11.50 for No. 2 foundry to $11.75, while $11.65 and $12 are now commonly held. The southern furnaces are increasing production slightly, and at the same time cutting down stocks somewhat, so that $9.50 Birmingham may be considered more thoroughly established than at any time this year.

The situation apart from pig iron is better in a number of lines. Indications point to a heavier shipment of Lake Superior ore this year than has been counted on at any time by authorities in that trade. It seems certain that the steel corporation will continue its policy of carrying a good reserve on Lake Erie docks and in furnace yards. The September movement on the lake's export of that of 1903, by over 60,000 tons, and only the October and November movement of last year are duplicated this season. The total will be close to 18,500,000 as against predictions early in the year of 14,500,000 tons, in addition to the steel corporation's activity in ore shipments attention has been directed to its greatly enlarged coke production, which has suggested the possibility of a coke accumulation such as was maintained under the old Carnegie regime.

A DREAMLAND DETECTIVE.

Regular Way in Which an English Murderer Was Discovered.

In the London Mirror of Literature for June, 1894, there is an account of a dream that was remarkable in many respects. It is given upon the authority of a clergyman of the Church of England, the Rev. Mr. Alexander, who speaks from personal knowledge of some of the facts. It appears that a young man of good reputation, named Horrocks, was found robbed and murdered. His head had been beaten in apparently with bludgeons. A vigorous search was made for the assassin and after several months' attendance, no clue to the crime having been discovered. One night a gentleman who had been well acquainted with Horrocks awoke and told his wife that he had had a dream in which he had been assured that one Samuel Longsmith of Bolton was the murderer.

Longsmith lived some twenty miles away and was a person whom the dreamer had met but once or twice. His wife told him to think no more about it, but to go to sleep. A second time he awoke from the effects of the same dream and announced his resolution to take steps the following morning to see what could come of it. Accordingly he went to Bolton the next day and sought a warrant for the arrest of Longsmith. The magistrate, however, refused to grant it upon such evidence. Passing through the market place, he met Longsmith and asked him to go to a public house to hear something he had to communicate to him. There, locking the door, he charged him with the crime. Longsmith was staggered and faintly denied the accusation. In his confusion he said he was innocent, for he did not strike the blow.

"Then you know the man who did," replied the accuser, and Longsmith was arrested and examined. He varied at the examination and was remanded for three days. At the end of that time and after many honest prayer he confessed that he had been induced to join three men in a robbery expedition, when, meeting Horrocks, who made some resistance, his three companions turned on him. This confession came out before the grand jury, and Longsmith was brought to trial. The fact of the dream was not offered in evidence, but other testimony sufficient to convict him was produced. A few days before the execution he made a full acknowledgment of his guilt.

POETRY OF THE HEART.

A happy heart is better than a full purse. He who hath most heart loves most of sorrow.

A cheerful countenance beakens a good heart. No estate can make him rich that has a poor heart.

When you open your heart be always ready to shut it to again.

The heart's testimony is stronger than a thousand witnesses.

A glad heart seldom sighs, but a sorrowful mouth often laughs.

The heart is the hidden treasure of man; the tongue is the gate to the treasure.

There never was a heart truly great and generous that was not tender and compassionate.—Chicago Post.

Pointing the Way.

Some years ago an English traveler visiting the Transvaal asked a man whom he met to direct him to the post office. "You," came the answer, "must go on till you come to a road and look around der skoolhouse; but you must take care not to. No, you go on till you see der big barn, shined mit silver, den you turn der road down der field and go on till you comes to a pig red house; den you my Brother Hans' house. Don't go in der skoolhouse on till you comes to der haystack out a farm. Well, he don't live dere. But when you get further you see a house on der top of a little hill, so you go in dere and asks der old woman inside. She will tell you better as I can."

The Roof Dogs of New York.

There are dogs in New York that never set foot on the street. They belong to the janitors in the downtown buildings, and their runways consist of the roof of the building in which their owners live and adjoining roofs on the same level. That is a rare day when the office worker on looking out the sixth story window does not see a half dozen dogs romping about upon the roofs beneath him. There is one advantage at least in being a roof dog—the dog catcher has no terrors for him.

Success.

With great care and much labor a caterpillar climbed up a tall spear of grass. When he reached the top he stood on his hind end and waved his front end in the air.

"Just as I feared," said he. "Success does not bring happiness."

But then he turned and climbed down, for the caterpillars are wiser than men.—Puck.

Wanted Cash.

"Imprudent? Well, I should say! He spends his money in the most foolish way."

"Indeed?"

"Yes. Why, only the other day he spent half a dollar to advertise for an umbrella he had lost."—Philadelphia Ledger.

An Added Horror.

"That's a horrible idea De Riter has conceived."

"What's that?"

"He's talking of setting some of Browning's poems to Wagner's music."—Exchange.

Canton, O., Oct. 6.—Many matters have been considered, but few finally disposed of at the sessions here of the Ohio state Federation of Labor. The election was postponed to 2 o'clock this afternoon. The indications are for the election of Fred Zepp, representing Cleveland Brewery Workers to the presidency. The brewery forces are the strongest in the convention here. Beadle of the Canton Watch Kn gravers is the most formidable opposition to the reelection of Secretary Winchell Goldsmith of Cleveland. The federation will send a delegate to the national convention at San Francisco strong opposition developed to the proposition to use the money such representation will cost for a state organization. (The man) will probably win over Lima and Columbus in the struggle for the next convention.

ROOSEVELTS PEACE RECORD No. 3.

On December 21st, 1898, four days before the Christmas celebration of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men," Roosevelt said before the New England society:

"I have scant sympathy with that mock humanitarianism, * * which would prevent the great, orderly, liberty-loving nations of the world from doing their duty in the earth's waste places because there must be some rough surgery at the outset."

MR. BRYAN WRITES HIS VIEWS.

State Chairman Harvey C. Garber, who is also the unanimous democratic nominee for re-election to congress, yesterday received the following letter from Hon. W. J. Bryan, in which the distinguished Nebraskan again reiterates that he stands upon the St. Louis platform, and for Judge Parker. Mr. Bryan said:

"I am glad to know that the state committee has the campaign work so well in hand. If I could spare the time I would be glad to visit the state, especially the districts which contain a large number of the silver democrats.
I would be glad to personally urge them to support the democratic electors and the democratic congressmen."

"While Judge Parker announces himself as unqualifiedly in favor of the gold standard, he is no more objectionable upon this question than President Roosevelt, and he does stand for many things in which the silver democrats are interested."

IMPERIALISM THE ISSUE.

"In 1900 our platform declared the question of imperialism to be paramount, and I believe our party did right in so doing. The platform at St.
Louis took strong ground against imperialism, and Judge Parker has expressed himself emphatically in favor of giving the Filipinos independence. He is also in favor of reducing the army, which has been increased under republican rule, and his election would remove the race question and substantiate a peaceful spirit for the warlike spirit that now pervades the White House. The elections of Parker and Davis would remove from the arena of politics any questions which stand in the way of the consideration of economic questions, and for this reason I believe that every democrat who supported the ticket in 1896 and 1900 should interest himself in the success of the ticket this year."

"When the election is over I want us to renew the fight for economic reform, and I believe that we will be in better position to do this with Judge Parker elected than with President Roosevelt again at the head of the nation.
It is also important to secure congress, for without the house of representatives the president could not carry out his policies. Yours truly,

"W. J. BRYAN."

The Ginn & Co. sheet has dropped the school book question, preferring to continue in silence their scheme to make every parent in the city purchase a complete set of new books from Ginn & Co. at the beginning of next term.

If the editor of the Republican-Gazette, is not in collusion with his son, with Quail and with Ginn & Co. to turn the furnishing of the schools books used in our schools over to the latter without any competition, he will immediately and forcibly denounce the action of the republican city committee in violating its agreement with the democratic city committee, and demand the election of a non-partisan board of education, composed of men, or men and women who are above reproach.

Colonel James Kilbourne is one of the largest manufacturers in Ohio.
His address as chairman of the democratic opening at Lima proves where he stands on the subject of tariff revision. Manufacturers who do not receive special favors from the government at the expense of the consumers of their product, all accord with Colonel Kilbourne on the tariff question. The others are the makers and backers of the trusts.

Judge Parker's letter was only half as long as President Roosevelt's, but it contained twice as much and will be remembered twice as long.

Mr. Roosevelt regards the constitution as an annoyance. He could get along a great deal better if the old fogies of the Revolutionary period had not bothered him with a written law.

The next national house of representatives is almost certain to be captured by the democrats, but it is likely to be by a very small margin. A full democratic vote in the doubtful districts of Ohio is not unlikely to give this state the honor of wresting control of the house from the republicans.

Governor Herrick is meeting with so much censure that he must be in doubt as to whether the Warren opening was a forerunner of his defeat or Roosevelt's.

The candidacy of Hon. A. P. Sandles, for secretary of state on the democratic ticket represents the opposition to third terms which heretofore has been emphatic in all parties in Ohio. In recent years, however, the republican bosses have found it necessary to keep their Columbus henchmen permanently in office. A vote for Mr. Sandles is a vote to oust them and to return to the principle of rotation.

Hon. William J. Bryan will deliver a few speeches in Ohio toward the latter part of the campaign, but the greater part of his services are absolutely required in other states by the national committee. Mr. Bryan has been doing some very effective work for Parker and Davis in the far western states and is now about due to come eastward.

SOME FACTS LEAKING OUT.

Member of the Kuhn-Loeb Banking House Testifies About the Northern Pacific Fight.

New York, Oct. 6.—Otto Kahn, a member of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb &
Co. today in testimony before a reference said that in May, 1901 J. P.
Morgan & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co.
were competitors in a fight for control of the Northern Pacific railroad.
They were buying Northern Pacific stock for this purpose," said he,
and so were welcome.

Mr. Kahn made the statement that he made of May 1901, was caused by J. P. Morgan & Co.'s purchase of stock. He maintained that it was not the call made by Kuhn, Loeb & Co.
for its common lent out which caused the crisis. "J. P. Morgan & Co.," he said, "were buying Northern Pacific common. Kuhn, Loeb & Co. had also been buying Northern Pacific common.
We began to buy them because we assumed that they were trying to do the same that we were namely to get control of the Northern Pacific. His firm did not buy Northern Pacific during the four days prior to May 9th."

Mr. Kahn declined to answer questions as to whom his firm represented in acquiring Northern Pacific stocks.

A Judicious Inquiry.
A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by all druggists.

Germans From all Parts of Land

Assembled on World's Fair Grounds Today to Celebrate German Day

In Joyous Commemoration of the Landing of the First Germans
on American Soil Oct. 6, 1693.

St. Louis, Oct. 6.—Displaying white ribbons bearing the inscription "Do your duty to the old country and the new." Germans from all parts of America assembled on the World's fair grounds to celebrate German day, a commemoration of the landing of the first Germans on American soil on October 6, 1693.

The German-American National Federation, comprising all German-American societies, was well represented, as was the National Federation of German Singing societies, with its membership of two hundred different organizations, and the National Association of the Veterans of German Army and Navy.

The principal exercises of the day were held on the plaza of St. Louis, comprising exhibitions in calisthenics and gymnastic children's games, some 600 of them appearing. At the conclusion, all joined in singing the hymns of the Fatherland and concluded with the Star Spangled Banner.
Later in the day more impressive ceremonies were held at the German National pavilion where addresses were delivered by Dr. Emil Paternus, of St. Louis, the pastor of the German American church, Baron Von Sternberg, the German ambassador, Dr.
Theodore Lowald, the imperial German commissioner, Ben Carl Schurz, and a number of prominent Germans and exposition officials.

CONDOLENCE FROM PORTER.

American Ambassador Addresses a Fine Tribute to Widow of Eminent Sculptor, Bartholdi.

Paris, Oct. 6.—Ambassador Porter today sent Madame Bartholdi the following letter:

"Madame.—The death of the eminent sculptor who had always aimed at giving to his works the expression of some great idea or noble aspiration, has profoundly moved the American nation, which has received from an lasting proof of his sincere admiration. As the interpreter of these sentiments the government of the United States has bidden me to say to you that the Statue of Liberty enlightening the world has rendered the name of Bartholdi dear to all my countrymen who join in your grief and that of the artistic world. In acquitting myself of this duty allow me to express my personal sympathy and those of all the members of the embassy who, like myself, had with Bartholdi friendly relations during the last twenty years, which have left in our hearts souvenirs we never shall forget.

"I have the honor to be, your respected servant,

SUICIDE WAS CAUSE OF DEATH.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Instead of being murdered, as at first supposed, it was learned today that suicide was the cause of the death of Minnie Harmening, of Palestine, Ill., whose dead body was found in a barn. A brother of the dead girl confessed today that he discovered the corpse hanging from a rafter. According to his statement, he cut the body down and then hid the rope, not wanting his parents to know that the girl had committed suicide.

sylvanians for Running Pool Rooms. Implicate Others.

Morrisstown, Pa., Oct. 6.—The grand jury today returned true bills of indictment against Geo. H. Clarkson and Harry V. Emanuel of Philadelphia, charged with maintaining a gambling establishment. This seven others were before the grand jury on charges of aiding and abetting the principals.
All of the defendants were recently arrested in a raid on a pool room at West, Maryland. The county Emanuel, who is a telegraph operator and Clarkson, are said by the authorities to have been the leading spirits in the enterprise.

DISCOVERED HIDING PLACE.

Cleveland Police Unearthed Large Quantity of Valuable Furs and Other Plunder.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 6.—The police have discovered the hiding place of a large quantity of valuable furs and other plunder. Numerous robberies on the Lake Shore and other railroads have occurred lately. Railroad officials found that an old shanty near the city limits was frequented by a gang of suspicious-looking men.
The police pulled up the floor of the shanty and found a quantity of furs and other plunder. The goods are supposed to have been stolen from box cars.

THOUSANDS OF CHICAGOANS

Depart For St. Louis to Celebrate Chicago Day at World's Fair.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Chicagoans to the number of 30,000 it is estimated, will be in attendance at the celebration of Chicago day at the St. Louis exposition, Saturday. Great crowds of Chicagoans, including Mayor Harrison and other city officials, the Chicago Press club members of the board of trade, of the Union League club and of the Chicago Athletic association left for St. Louis today on special trains.

NO CHANGES ARE PROBABLE

lows Save in Addition of Director.

Columbus, O., Oct. 6.—No changeare probable in the official roster of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows (colored) now in session at the board of trade auditorium, save in the addition of one director and the election of another director in place of Walter Banks, of Boston, Mass., who may be elected on account of old age. Mr. Banks was chosen a few months ago to fill the unexpired term of a deceased director, and his advanced age, about 65, may operate against his reelection. The resolution declaring for the addition of a new member to the board of directors was adopted.

THE MARKETS.

New York, Oct. 6.—There was no decided tendency to the stock market at the opening today, leading stocks showing slight changes, either way.
Missouri Pacific, Southern Pacific and the eastern stocks generally were higher, while St. Paul, Union Pacific, U. S. Steel and other specialties were slightly lower. Dealings in individual stocks were in very large amounts.
Blocks of 2,000 to 4,000 shares changed hands frequently. U. S. Steel preferred sold simultaneously at from 75 1/2 to 75 3/4, for 5,000 shares. It closed yesterday at 75 1/2.

YELL

Of the Gridiron Rooters

Will Be Heard

At Celina and Columbus Grove

Where Lima's Young Athletes Will Contest the Bloody Field.

Athletes Will Meet Celina's Eleven in a Game Next Sunday and the High School at the Grove Saturday.

Two games of foot ball are scheduled for this week, but both will be played on foreign ground. The Lima Athletics, who made their first appearance at St. Marys last Sunday are booked at Celina for a game next Sunday. The failure to defeat the St. Marys team has acted as an inspiration, and the team expects to go through the Celina lines for enough touchdowns to make the victory unquestionable.

The high school foot ball team is ready for the fray and the bunch of young athletes form a formidable unit, having more than the average weight together with enough of the fleet footed to make advances certain. The first contest of the season will take place at Columbus Grove Saturday afternoon, and a game will be scheduled for each succeeding Saturday, either at home or abroad.

Ada Kept From Scoring.
The Ohio Northern University team met the invincible Michigans on the gridiron at Ann Arbor yesterday, and was defeated 47 to 0. Only one advance of five yards was made by the visitors but they played a heroic game in defense against the champions of the west.

Ada to Open Season.
With the assurance of uninterrupted cool nights, basket ball will soon be ripe, and the admirers of the great indoor game can prepare for some great contests. Lima will have several teams in the field this year, one of which will be known as "The Linas," and will be made up, at least in part, of the fast talent that composed last year's high school squad. Under new management the team has secured Otter hall as the battle ground, and it is the intention to play at least one game a week, at the close of which Prof. Finley will give the floor over to dancing for all who attend. In this way, the visiting teams will be assured of an enjoyable social evening that will take off the wire edge of defeat.

An invitation will be extended to the Ada University team for the opening game, which may be played Friday evening of next week, but definite announcement to that effect will be made later. The management has addressed letters to Findlay, Fremont, Piqua, Sidney and other towns where strong basket ball teams have been organized season after season, and the great sport is sure to make many new followers during 1904 and 1905.

After the "Bobbies."

The second base ball game of the season, between the police and fire department boys, will be played at Wheeler park tomorrow afternoon. Flushed with a former victory the protectors of the peace of the city go into the contest with confidence while on the other hand the fire laddies are supported by a grim determination to wipe out the disgrace of defeat. Chief Mills and Chief Coats are sizing up their forces with a strict regard to effectiveness in every position and will stop up the weak spots that broke out in the former game.

Schmitter, the Lima club's first baseman will umpire the game and when he calls for play the two teams will start out the following line up to the field:

Firemen—Tosinger, pitcher; Helm, catcher; Bryan, first base; Eyster, second base; Simons, third base; Coates, short stop; Morris, left field; Wilcox, center field; Higgins, right field.
Police—Armstrong, pitcher; Owens, catcher; Ferguson, first base; Heffern,

WANT

The New Schedule Changed

To Give Them

Advantage of Service of Fast Trains.

Columbus Grove Citizens Select a Committee of Business Men.

To Meet With C. H. & D. Officials and Petition Them to Make the "Grove" a Flag Stop.—Railroad News.

Columbus Grove, O., Oct. 6.—General Superintendent R. B. Turner and Division Superintendent S. B. Floeter, of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, of Lima, met the committee appointed at the mass meeting to wait on the officials of the road regarding a recommendation to give Columbus Grove the benefits of their fast trains. The committee was authorized to go to Cincinnati to consult the high officials, if need be, so anxious were the people to secure this service. Composing the committee which met last night was G. W. Core, W. T. Manel, D. W. Slusser and H. F. Light.

The following proposition was laid before the officials by the committee: That train No. 4, due here at 4:50 p. m., stop at this point to take on passengers for any point heretofore reached. That No. 7, due here at 1:24 a. m., stop on flag the same as before the new schedule, to take on passengers for any point, and let them off here. That No. 3, due at 3:45 p. m., take on passengers who have tickets for Dayton and points south, and stop to let off passengers for here taken on at Toledo or at points north of that city.

Superintendent Turner was rather secretive concerning the effect the provisions of the proposition might make with him, although he stated the matter would be taken up at once, and an ultimatum given in two or three days. Superintendent Floeter is said to have hinted to one of the members of the committee that he believed such a proposition would be accepted and such recommendation made and put into effect. This will give through passengers a chance to avail themselves of the fast train service, and yet cut out local traffic. The company is very desirous of meeting the citizens half way in the matter, and there is but little probability that the question will reach an unpleasant state of affairs. The committee is composed of cool-headed business men, who will undoubtedly manipulate the matter to the satisfaction of all parties concerned.

NO ANTAGONISM

Is Intended by Columbus Grove Citizens Against the C. H. & D.

Referring to the situation as it exists between the town of Columbus Grove and the C. H. & D., the Times-Democrat has received the following communication from a resident of that place, in which he says:

"A business men's league will probably be organized here, to further the best interests of the town in the matter of passenger traffic on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton road. Preliminary arrangements are already under way. Among the first matters taken up was the appointment of a committee of five to go to Cincinnati and confer with the officials of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton regarding the stopping of their fast trains at this point. The committee has been appointed for over a week, but no further action has been taken. Composing it is C. H. Jones, G. W. Core, W. T. Manel, H. F. Light and D. W. Slusser.

One member of the committee is in favor of reasoning the matter and endeavoring to secure the company's recommendation to give this service. It is not believed the town will be obstinate to the point of holding the trains down to the speed limit or causing the arrest of any train crews. This train service is desired, but yet without force to secure it."

Making the Time.

The C. H. & D. limited trains are gradually working up to the fast schedule, and the south-bound flyer is now making Lima only a few minutes behind time. Using the terminal station has added seven miles to the distance and the management has had to overcome every movement that retards, in order to keep up to the time card. When the trains were first installed, the south-bound train was daily reported from one to two hours late.

Van Wert Comes Next.

Work is progressing nicely on the traction line, west of Delphos. A force of men are at work on the overhead cross-ties and the concrete work will be started in a day or two. Piling and other timber is on the ground. Three cars of steel rail are being unloaded west of town and hauled out along the line. Ties are being distributed out of Middle Point. It is given out that the contract entered into by the construction company reads that cars are to be in operation to Van Wert by December 15th.—Delphos Herald.

More Work For Shopmen.

The L. E. & W. shop employes have received an increase in working hours this week which, when the month's salaries are figured up, will make considerable difference in the amount of their earnings. During the summer months the men only worked eight hours a day and only worked five days each week, having a full holiday each Saturday. The new schedule gives the men nine hours each day and six working days each week.

Train 5 Was Detoured.

West bound passenger train No. 5, of the L. E. & W., due here at 4:23 o'clock in the afternoon, was about thirty-five minutes late yesterday afternoon, on account of the big fire which destroyed the National refinery at Findlay. The refinery stood near the railroad track between West Park and Findlay and the burning oil spread out across the main track, stopping traffic and burning off telegraph poles until every wire on the line was down. Train 5 was detoured around the scene of the fire, over the T. & O. C. and Findlay, Ft. Wayne & Western roads. The train was in charge of Conductor A. L. Heath and Engineer Chas. Nutting.

Shops For Napoleon.

A proposition to finally and permanently locate the Detroit Southern Railroad shops at Napoleon and also make it a division point for both passenger and freight traffic was submitted to President Samuel Hunt at an informal meeting of the business men of that city yesterday. The proposition submitted is a feasible one, and it is confidently anticipated in business circles that the shops will be located there in the near future.

PAINE'S REMAINS WILL BE ACCORDED HONOR.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 6.—The remains of Postmaster General Henry C. Payne upon their arrival in Milwaukee Saturday evening will be taken to the city hall, where they will lie in state until 12 o'clock noon on Sunday. The casket will then be removed to All Saints Cathedral, where services will be conducted by Bishop I. L. Nicholson at 3 p. m., after which the remains will be taken to Forest Home cemetery for burial.

HABITS OF THE T.

The Sleeping, the Waking and the Toilet Before Work.

During sleep the body is quite still. Occasionally may be noted a regular lifting up and setting down of the feet, one leg after another, with almost rhythmic motion. The automatic also have a gentle, quivering, apparently involuntary movement, almost like breathing. The soundness of sleep was frequently proved by applying the feather end of a quill. The feather tip is lightly drawn along the back, stroking "with the fur." There is no motion. Again and again this action is repeated, the stroke being made gradually heavier. Still there is no change. The strokes are directed upon the head, with the same result. Then the feather is applied to the neck with a waving motion intended to tickle it. The animal remains motionless. Finally the sleeper is aroused by a sharp touch of the quill. She stretches out her head, then her feet, which she shakes also; steps nearer to the light, yawns and begins to comb her antennae and brush her head and mouth. Then she clambers over her sleeping courtesies, dives into an open gateway and soon has said "Good morning" to another cour of day. Be it well noted, however, that she has gone to work, as she and all her fellows always do, not only rested, but with her person perfectly clean!—H. C. McCook in Harper's Magazine.

AN ODD CHARACTER.

The Queer Freaks of an English Foot and Clergyman.

Robert Steven Hawker, poet and vicar of Norwinton, England, was an eccentric person. In his younger days he used to dab the village physician's horse with stripes of paint until the animal looked like a zebra and then summon the physician hastily to an urgent case miles away in the country. Two elderly women whom he disliked he said to have driven out of the town by sending all the undertakers in Plymouth to measure them for their coffins. His marriage, too, was out of the ordinary. It happened while he was at Oxford. His father told him that he could not afford to keep him there any longer. Hawker at once set out to the home of his grandmother, Miss Charlotte Fans, twenty-one years his senior and the possessor of an annuity of $1,000. He is said to have "run from Stratford to Bude, arriving hot and blown," and proposed to her. She accepted him. He returned to Oxford a married man and won a fellowship. The marriage was a happy one. When his wife died Hawker wore at her funeral a pink hat without a brim. But this was in no disrespect to her memory. It so happened that it was his usual headgear at that time.

INDIA INK.

The Way the Kind Used in China and Japan is Made.

India ink, much used in China and Japan for writing with small brushes on soft paper and made extensively in China since 250 B. C., consists of a mixture of carbon and gum, with the addition of a little musk or Borneo camphor to give it the characteristic odor. The preparation of this ink is by no means easy, for if the materials are not of the best quality and if the carbon is not as finely divided as possible an inferior ink will be the result. After the carbon and gum have been mixed the product has to be slowly and carefully dried. The best polish is said to be produced with tree wax. Europeans have produced ink equal if not superior to the genuine Chinese article. The reason why the manufacture has remained chiefly in eastern hands is an interesting one. The business instinct of the European racket prompts him to seize any opportunity of substituting cheaper raw materials and so lowering the quality of his ink, while the tendency of the Chinaman is to work on in the same groove, and in this case his highbrow conservatism is profitable.—London Mail.

Mozart Relics.

The small and old-fashioned Mozart house is in the middle of Salzburg. It is with a feeling of respect, a visitor to the spot says, that one climbs the three flights of stone and enters the room where Mozart was born. All the ancient pictures, the two old pianos and many relics belonging to the composer take one back a hundred years. The only jarring note in this harmonious association of memories is that Mozart's skull is in a glass case in the center of the room, all that remains of him, since no one could ever distinguish his body in the mass of remains in the common papers' grave wherein he was buried in Vienna.—London Globe.

Papa's Frankness.

The Early Bird.

Our English say a count the early bird's breakfast has its counterpart in twenty other languages. The Germans, for instance, have a proverbial saying to the effect that early morning has sold in its mouth.—Hartford Courant.

Contradictory.

"He said he couldn't live without her." "Did she count him?" "Oh, yes, after looking him up in the financial reports and finding that he could."—Puck.

Only one remedy in the world that will at once stop itchiness of the skin in any part of the body. Doan's Ointment. At city drug stores, etc.

IMPRESSING THE INDIANS.

Simon Fraser's Methods With the Un-tamed Redskins.

Even as late as the year 1803 there were Indians on the North American continent who had never seen or heard a gun, had never seen tobacco smoke and were capable of worshipping the white men who controlled those wonders. The Rev. A. G. Morice tells of some of the adventures of Simon Fraser, who has stamped his name on Canada. Father Morice writes as follows: "On landing at Lake Superior Fraser's men, to impress the natives with a proper idea of their wonderful resources, fired a volley with their guns, whereupon the whole crowd of Indians fell prostrate to the ground. To allay their fears and make friends to be made was offered them, which, on being tasted, was found too bitter and thrown away. Then, to show its use, the crew lighted their pipes, and at the sight of smoke issuing from their mouths the people began to whisper that they must come from the land of ghosts, since they were still full of the fire wherewith they had been cremated. Pieces of soap were given to the women, who, taking them to be cakes of fat, set upon crunching them, causing foam and bubbles in the mouth, which puzzled both actors and bystanders. All these phenomena, however, were soon explained away, leaving profound admiration for the foreigners and their wares."

THE PACIFIC OCEAN.

How It Came to Be So Called by the Explorer Magellan.

Magellan, presently the first circumnavigator of the world, set out from Spain in 1499 to find a western route to the famous Moluccas, or Spice Islands. Vague rumors of a Pacific Ocean were scattered through Europe. To test these Magellan, following the coast of South America, passed through the strait which now bears his name, formerly the strait of the Eleven Thousand Virgins, tossed all the time on a most tempestuous sea. Emerging into the broad waters on the west, he sailed northwest for three months and twenty days on a placid, almost unruffled sea, which he christened then and there Mar Pacifico, or Pacific Ocean, the name it will now forever bear. Notwithstanding its name typhoons in the west and elsewhere make this ocean as perilous a path as any other to those who tempt its vast expanse and comparative solitude. Magellan himself fell in the Philippines, but the Victoria came home to tell the tale. Drake was the first Englishman to sail on its wide waters.—London Standard.

BOOKWORMS.

Not the Human Kind, but the Grubs That Tunnel Volumes.

Blades, in his interesting volume, "The Enemies of Books," has shown that several very real bookworms are undesirable tenants of old libraries, and he has studied closely several specimens sent him and described their ravages. Two grubs in particular richly deserve this name, the anobium, perhaps or eruditus and the oecophora. The anobium, a small, light colored, brown headed grub, with a body like a tiny ivory or transparent wax, leaves a close resemblance to the white maggots of a Silken cheese. Working with a pair of strong jaws, like a steel bit, the grub begins at the wooden boards and if allowed will perforate the whole volume. The oecophora, similar to the anobium, except for the possession of six legs, is not unlike the so-called deathwatch.

M. Polignot asserts that he found twenty-seven volumes in one row pierced from end to end by a single worm tunnel. Mr. Blades doubts this, but has himself seen two volumes so treated, with no fewer than 212 distinct holes on one cover.

Garrick and the Bishop.

In the "Realities of Irish Life," by W. S. French, is this anecdote: "I have heard a story that upon one occasion the bishop of London asked the celebrated actor, Garrick, if he could explain how it was that he and his clergy failed to arrest the attention of their audiences, although they preached every Sunday of the realities of the world to come, while he (Garrick) filled crowded houses with the most rapt attention, although they knew perfectly well that all he was saying was fiction. 'The reason is very plain, my lord,' replied Garrick. 'You deal with facts as if they were fiction; I deal with fiction as if they were facts.'"

Convincing.

The late Wilhelm Jordan used to be very much annoyed because of the constant tearing up of the streets in Frankfurt. One day he said to one of the men at work, "Why are you digging up the pavement again?" "Because a new water pipe is to be put in." "But the old one was still quite good." "So was the old Nibelung-Lied, yet you wrote a new one, Herr Doctor," retorted the laborer, with a laugh, in which Jordan lost.

Reason Enough.

"What! Marry my daughter?" snorted old Gotroch. "Why, you must be destitute of all reason!" "Yes," interrupted young Poorley, with refreshing candor, "I admit I am destitute, but that very fact is my reason."—Philadelphia Press.

Judicial Prognostics.

"What kind of sentence did the judge give the weather man?" "Fifteen years, followed by clearing; hard labor, changing to variable; bread and water toward evening; Sunday, soap."—Buffalo Express.

A Quart Baby.

Now and then there is an item in the newspapers concerning the birth of a quart baby no small that a quart cup holds it comfortably. If the article told all the facts it would tell also of a mother who is weak and weary and looked forward to the baby's advent with alacrity and fear.

To have fine, healthy children the mother must be healthy, and it is the common testimony of lactating mothers that the mother's health but also gives her strength to give her child.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only promotes the mother's health but also gives her strength to give her child. It is the best of tonics for nursing mothers.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription writes Mrs. J. W. G. Stephens, of Little Rock, Arkansas: "Before my third little boy was born I took six bottles. He is the finest child and has been from birth, and I suffered very much less than I ever did before. I enthusiastically advise expectant mothers to use the Favorite Prescription."

Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $100 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapse, or Falling of Womb which he cannot cure. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advice, containing 1008 pages, 16 cents per copy on receipt of name and address of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

AMERICAN NAMES.

Robert Louis Stevenson Was Impressed by Their Beauty.

Robert Louis Stevenson spoke in his own attractive way of the nomenclature of the states, towns and rivers of our land thus: "And when I asked the name of a river from the brakeman and heard it was called the Susquehanna the beauty of the name seemed to be part and parcel of the beauty of the land. As when Adam with divine vision named the creatures, so the word Susquehanna was at once accepted by the fancy. That was the name as no other could be, for that shining river and desirable valley."

"You can care for literature in itself who does not take a special pleasure in the sound of names, and there is no part of the world where nomenclature is so rich, poetic, humorous and picturesque as the United States of America. All times, names and languages have brought their contribution. Pekin is in the same state with Euclid, with Bellefontaine and Sandusky; Chelsea with its London association of red brick, St. Ann square, and the King's Road is one suburb to stately and princely Memphis."

"The names of the states and territories themselves form a chorus of sweet and most romantic vocables: Delaware, Ohio, Indiana, Florida, Iowa, Wyoming, Minnesota and the Carolinas; there are few poems with a nobler music for the ear; a songful, musical land, and if the new Homer shall arise from the western continent his verse will be enriched, his pages ring spontaneously, with the names of states and cities that would strike the fancy in a business circular."—Savannah News.

Pontifex Bigelow, writing before the Boer war, gave a very interesting impression of ex-President Kruger. The president of the South African Republic, he wrote, "is indeed a grand old savage from one point of view and a noble statesman from another. He is theoretically the first citizen of the most democratic community, yet in practice he surrounds himself with a tawdry splendor that would shock many a crowned head of Europe. When I first had the honor of meeting this anomalous phenomenon he was drinking coffee and throwing out a cloud of strong tobacco smoke, but a still stronger volume of violent language, emphasized by the thumping of his massive fist upon the table. The room in which he received was crowded with long haired, tall bearded and stout featured fellow burghers, who reminded me partly of Russian priests, partly of Californian miners and partly of certain alleged portraits of the apostles. I feared that I had unwittingly interrupted a cabinet meeting, but later it turned out that this was Mr. Kruger's usual 'at home.' When the president is not at his office he delights in nothing so much as entertaining his countrymen with coffee, tobacco and political proverbs. He harangues his clerics with the voice of a bull in distress, and they like it. He converses with personal contact and spoken parables, and it is his boast that he knows personally every citizen of his republic."

An Old Time Rip Van Winkle.

The learned John Stow, known as the "London Antiquary," records the following: "April 27, 1546, was Tuesday in Easter week, and on that day William Forster, putmaker of the mint, fell asleep, and he continued sleeping, and he could not be awakened, without pinching, cramping or burning with scorching until the first day of term, which was fourteen days and fifteen nights after his sleep began. The causes of this extraordinary sleep could not be known, although the same were diligently searched for after by the king's physicians and many other learned men. He lived for forty years after he recovered."

Eyes Blackened in a Battle That Resulted in a New Case in Mayor's Court Today.

Knock-Out Scored by a Woman in Boilermaker Jeffries Style.

Charge of Assault and Battery Filed by the Alleged Victim of the Knock Out—Mayor in New Quarters.

A battle in which one woman proved to be able to put up a fight argument that would put many a would-be burglar to shame occurred on north Main street north of the Pennsylvania company's tracks yesterday afternoon at about 3 o'clock. The combatants, according to the story told in mayor's court were Della Tyson and George Lockard and it seems that the former had all the best of the contest for when the Lockard woman appeared in mayor's court to sign affidavit charging the Tyson woman with assault and battery, she brought with her plenty of evidence to substantiate the charge. The flesh around both of her eyes was frightfully blackened and one of the "lumps" was swollen almost shut. She stated that the Tyson woman had made an insulting remark about her and when she objected to the remark the defendant assaulted her and "knocked her out," raining blows upon her face in real Jeffries style. She went down for the count and could not recover in time to get back at her antagonist.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of the Tyson woman but she has not yet appeared to enter a plea to the charge.

Mayor in New Quarters.
The furniture and other paraphernalia in mayor's court was moved today into the mayor's new quarters which have been established in the Wise building, immediately east of the city building, and the board of public service is now in possession of the room formerly occupied by the mayor. The new court rooms are connected with the city building by a door that was cut through the wall at the top of the first flight of steps leading up from the main entrance to the city building and may also be reached from the Main street entrance to the Wise building.

KEEP

The Subject From Cooling Off For the Time

Is Now Ripe for Lima to Be Up and Doing.

Committee Doesn't Intend to Let Interest Lag in the New Hospital

And It Will Be Too Late to Count the Cost if Opportunity Should Be Lost Through Unpard-onable Inactivity.

There is scarcely a limit to the many things that might be said by way of encouraging the effort Lima is to make in securing the proposed new state hospital, and nothing can be said in disparagement. In keeping the people posted on what is being done by the committee, and at the same time giving the public facts that cannot be disputed, the ground has already been pretty well covered. But it is a good thing to talk about, and a subject that should be kept warm, meaning, as it does, benefits difficult to estimate for every resident of the city.

The establishment of the institution, whether it comes to Lima, or goes elsewhere, means the expenditure of a million dollars of the state's money—and that enormous amount is no exaggeration. The trouble in the past has been that the state has failed to recognize the necessity of providing at the outset for an institution of sufficient size, and the new hospital will, in all probability, be more extended than any of the like institutions previously erected. To that end the ground work for the increased size of the institution will be laid out at the beginning.

The expenditure of over a million dollars could not help benefitting Lima in every possible way, and it would not stop with the completion of the buildings. Additions would be constantly made and a large annual expenditure for running the institution would mean the putting out of a quarter of a million dollars a year in addition to the amount expended in building. To illustrate this, the amount expended by the state on the Toledo hospital for the year 1902, amounted to $340,784.99. What the expenditure of this amount of money means can be better understood by saying that it is more money than was expended during the same period in the eighty-eight counties of the state, (many of them running constantly from two to six or eight juries at a time), upon the entire jury system in the state of Ohio.

The committee has been making inquiries as to the benefit derived by the cities near which these institutions are located, and the universal testimony is that they are of incalculable benefit. When asked the question directly as to the benefit to Lima, one who for many years was a trustee in one of the state institutions, said: "I have lived here and been in business all my life, and I can best describe the situation by saying, Lima cannot afford to miss securing this institution."

The Toledo hospital last year paid to employees, not counting salaries of the officials at all, upwards of $61,000, or over $5,000 per month. These people largely live outside of the institution. Many of them own homes or rent homes which they occupy, and maintain families, from all of which Lima would receive the benefit. There are over 200 such employees at this institution. Under a recent decision of the attorney-general it is left to the officers of the institution to secure supplies without the necessity of advertising for bids, and Lima's merchants are surely as wide awake and would have closer connection with the institution than any one else could have.

In addition to this, it will be true here as everywhere else, that many people will take up their residence in Lima, that they may be near their loved ones at the institution, and in addition to all this would be the large transient travel which would necessarily come to Lima as a result.

Calculate the result of all this abundant testimony, and then ask yourself if the opportunity for Lima should be lost sight of. Do not leave all the hard work for a single committee to perform. Its members are engaged in it without hope of reward, other than what will come to every resident of the city through the establishment of the hospital. Enroll yourself as one of the willing ones and give of your labor and purse to the extent that you are able.

Jacob J. Conrad Called to Rest.

Died at His Home on West Wayne Street Today.

Death Resulted From Paralysis With Which He Was Stricken While Serving as a School Building Janitor.

Jacob J. Conrad, who for thirty years was the faithful and respected janitor of the west school building, died at his late home, at 317 west Wayne street, at 10.35 o'clock this morning, death resulting from paralysis, after he had suffered an illness of more than a year's duration.

The deceased was 67 years of age and was one of the pioneer citizens of Lima. He was still serving as janitor of the west building when stricken with paralysis a year ago last July. He had previously tendered his resignation on account of failing health, but had been persuaded to remain at his post until stricken with the ailment that finally caused his death. He was an excellent citizen and was esteemed and respected by all who knew him. Mr. Conrad was born in Switzerland, February 6, 1835, and came to America in 1851.

Funeral services over the remains will be held at Trinity M. E. church Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The deceased is survived by his wife and two daughters. The latter are Mrs. Chas. H. Roney and Mrs. True Kilien, both of this city.

BARTENDER FOUND DEAD.

Head was Almost Severed From Body and Cash Register Robbed.

Detroit, Oct. 6.—Wm. Herman, a bartender, aged 22 years, was found dead today in the basement of the saloon at 140 Gratiot avenue. His head had been nearly cut off and the cash register in the stock had been robbed. Herman was the night bartender and was seen at 2.45 a. m., where there was no sign of trouble about the saloon. It is supposed that he was struck down by the robbers, thrown down collar and beaten with bottles and that his throat was then cut with a butcher knife. The porter and piano player of the saloon have been arrested on suspicion.

With Most Frightful Results.

Several Persons Including Policemen Saw Automobile Rushing Down Avenue and Shouted Warning But Without Avail. Party Was Returning From Mt. Vernon.

New York, Oct. 7.—Driven at the rate of 25 miles an hour, a three-seated touring car, containing nine persons, sped over an embankment at the southern end of Jerome avenue early this morning, landing on the south-bound track of the New York Central & Hudson River railroad. Just at that moment a south-bound local train, running fast to make up time, rounded a curve and struck the automobile. Three persons were killed, two instantly; two were seriously injured and the other four, although badly bruised and shaken, were able to go home.

The Dead.—ALLEN NOYES, chauffeur of the automobile, killed instantly. MADGE CORCORAN, was killed instantly. BELLA PERZE, died in a hospital.

The Injured.—Mrs. Kitty Widdoworth, skull fractured, lacerated face and body and general contusions. Will die. Moses Spitta, fracture of the jaw, general contusions. Jeannette Davis, shock and light contusions. Charles Doran, 23, shock and slight contusions; went home. Emma Perze, sister of Bella Perze, had hysteria. Thomas Murphy, not badly hurt.

The party were returning to the Riverside casino from a trip to Mount Vernon. Allen Noyes, the chauffeur, had intended turning from Jerome from the approach of the bridge to cross to Manhattan. Whether he knew of the extension of Jerome beyond 161st street or not, will never be known. The corner at that point is brilliantly lighted, but the extension leading to the edge of the embankment above the New York Central tracks is paved with brick and the car tracks run down to a picket fence at the edge.

Several persons, including two policemen, saw the automobile rushing down the avenue, and were surprised when it kept straight ahead. The locomotive engineer was arrested, but shouted a warning, but it was too late.

STRANGE SHIPMENT OF TORPEDO BOATS.

"West of Chicago" Is the Destination Expressed Upon the Waybill Which Accompanied It Across the Continent.

New York, Oct. 7.—Five submarine torpedoes built in Massachusetts have been shipped by rail from Jersey City. "West of Chicago" is the destination expressed upon the waybill, which accompanied one of the most unusual shipments which has ever crossed the American continent. Valued at nearly 4,000,000, the torpedo boats occupied seventeen new steel flat cars and six box cars, the appearance of the entire train being not unlike the caravan of a circus. The boats were shipped in sections and each car was covered with canvas, which concealed the contents. There was not the slightest mark on any car to indicate the contents or the destination, and to the railroad employees who inquired, the answer was given that the covered masses were a part of a large shipment of machinery destined for the west.

The defense claim that such inquiries are prejudicial. Judge Jenkins took the matter under advisement. It has been announced by ex-Mayor Perry that he will have more than a hundred witnesses for the defense, and that the trial will extend over several weeks.

Johnstown, O., Oct. 7.—John Dulovitch, a Slav, 45 years of age, while in a drunken frenzy attempted, last night to exterminate his entire family and then wound up by killing himself. He secured a hatchet and cut and pounded his wife in a frightful manner. The woman will die. For weeks the family had been quarreling. Dulovitch's wife claims that he had been beating her frequently and that he threatened to kill her if she informed the police. This she did. Yesterday he returned slightly injured from work at the Enterprise boiler works. "Too bad you were not killed," she is alleged to have said. After she returned he is said to have drunk three bottles of whisky and five buckets of beer. Dulovitch, with his wife and five-year-old daughter Katie, went to bed. The child says her father told her mother that he loved her, then went down stairs, returning with a hatchet. He struck her about the head and body, then went to a room where John and Annie, the latter 9 years old, were sleeping. Annie fled but John tried to protect himself with his hand. The blow almost severed the hand. The hatchet fell on the boy's head, but did not injure him seriously. This morning the man was found dead in the children's bed room, a huge hole in his throat, his neck cut and a gash on his head.

Tokio, Oct. 7.—3 p. m.—Lieutenant General Halsegawa, late commander-in-chief of the imperial guards division, will depart for Korea today to assume command of the Japanese forces there. It is probable that the Korean army will be dispersed or brought under Japanese control. General Halsegawa is expected to effect this change at an early date. It is probable that this Japanese move is made in order to expel the band of Cossacks now operating in western and north-western Korea.

Vladivostok, Oct. 7.—Refugees who have returned here from Korea say that the Koreans, especially in the southern portion, are greatly incensed by the high handed actions of the Japanese, who seized the young men, cut their hair, placed them in Japanese uniforms and compelled them to enter the ranks. SATISFIED WITH WORK

Being Done By Committee, and Urge Support of the Citizens.

An appeal is made today which should reach the people of Lima with weight enough behind it to convince every person, however skeptical he may be, that all this "hospital business" is not mere talk or fuss and feathers. The action of the executive committee in calling for a substantial fund, now receives the approbation of the literary and advisory committees, the members of which are prominent business men, and capable of judging whether or not the scheme is one deserving of their endorsement. Following their investigation they addressed an open letter to anyone concerned and it reads as follows:

Lima, O., Oct. 6, 1904.

We the literary committee and the advisory committee, after a conference this day with Mr. Ritchie and the executive committee appointed by him to secure, if possible, the state hospital for Lima, are fully convinced that these gentlemen should have the hearty co-operation and support of every business man of Lima to secure this hospital.

We have been advised of some of their plans and fully endorse the program these gentlemen outlined to us this morning and would ask every member of our association to, by word and deed, interest the citizens to subscribe as liberally as possible to the fund to secure this institution. We believe this committee will use and disburse all money entrusted to their care with discretion and return to the subscribers any unused portion of the funds so subscribed.

We realize the time to act is now and, if this institution is secured for Lima, it must be done within the next few months and to that end lend your assistance in every way possible to the executive committee and any sub-committee that may call upon you for any assistance.

Very respectfully
GEO. L. NEWSON, Pres.
C. M. CHOWN, Secy.
O. E. BROWN, N. L. Michael, E. H. T. B. Thompson, J. E. Gross, J. B. Thompson, E. B. Palmer.

BIRD-EYE VIEW
Of the Grounds and Hospital Buildings at Toledo.

The hospital committee has appropriated one of Druggist Melville's show windows, and have filled it with cuts of some of the buildings as well as a bird's-eye view of the town comprising the Toledo hospital. Examination of these views give an intelligent idea in a general way of what the new hospital site will embrace. The hospital town is laid out and in reality forms two connecting villages, a village for women and one for men. Among the larger buildings are the administration building, the power building, the women's hospital on one hand and the men's on the other, the cottage known as the strong ward for women, and also one for men, and the convalescent cottage for women and the same for men, the dining room for women and the same for men; and the various cottages are located upon the different streets, fine boulevards and drives, much like the best kept residence thoroughfares in a prosperous city. The state does not spare expense in its landscape gardening and the laying out and beautifying of its hospital town. Everything is made pleasing and attractive with a view of being beneficial to the patients, surrounding them with a home atmosphere as well as making things pleasing to the eyes of visitors. One cannot visit a modern institution of this kind without having afterward a great pride for his state.

The effort that is constantly put forth to benefit the unfortunate and brighten the lives of the inmates of these institutions, whether they be within the curable or incurable class, necessarily commands the respect and admiration of everyone who takes time to consider the rights and necessities of these unfortunate people. The residence cottages are large and airy, capable of accommodating from 15 to 25 patients each. The living room is a large and comfortable one, the entire front part of the house with light and air upon three sides, large and commodious, so that each patient has more room than is given to each member of a family in the ordinary home. The cottages are models of neatness and cleanliness and many house-wives might be benefited by a visit to one of them. Absolute cleanliness, light and plenty of air, seem to be the first three requisites.

If the citizens of Lima were more thoroughly familiar with the character of the modern institution of this kind there would be even more enthusiasm than there is in the effort to secure such a hospital for Lima.

APPEALS

To Democrats To Aid His Campaign.

Governor Herrick Anxious to Make a Showing in Ohio.

Situation, He States, Warrants Him in Urging Prompt Response to His Appeal For Funds For Both Committees.

The desperate condition of the republican campaign, and the fear that even Ohio will be lost to Roosevelt is divulged by the following letter from Gov. Herrick to J. B. Morris, a democratic township official at Columbus, Ohio.

The governor writes: "Columbus, O., Sept. 26, 1904. J. B. Morris, Columbus, Ohio. Dear Sir:—The importance of the present political contest in the state and nation warrants me in urging you to respond promptly to the appeal for funds recently made to you by Chairman Charles Dick, of the republican state executive committee. 'I will say whatever amount you see fit to give in response to Senator Dick's request will be credited as a contribution to both the state and national committees, the latter of which as the member for Ohio, I am particularly interested in.' 'Whatever aid you may extend in this direction will be greatly appreciated and duly acknowledged. Very truly yours, MYRON T. HERRICK'

Carrie L. Rise

And H. G. Hullinger at the HomeOf the Bride's Parents, Mr.
and Mrs. S. W. Rise, Metcalf Street.Kibby Corner Legislators Hold an Informal Meeting—Other Interesting South Side Items.

Last evening, Miss Carrie Lenore Rise became the bride of H. G. Hullinger. The ceremony was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Rise, of 718 south Metcalf street. It was just 8 o'clock when Miss Loyola Hartman, a dear friend to the bride, began playing Mendelssohn's wedding march on the piano, and the happy couple, attended by Miss Daisy Rise, the bride's sister, and Mr. Ralph Taylor, marched to the center of the room, where Rev. W. J. Hagerman gave the wedding vow, using the beautiful ring service.

The bride, who is one of south Lima's most charming daughters, looked very dainty and sweet in her gown of white organdie, which was made with a deep lace yoke and bertha, the skirt being trimmed with large tucks finished with ruffles. She carried bride's roses. Miss Daisy was prettily dressed in champagne-colored silk.

Guests to the number of fifty were present to witness the charming event.

After the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served in a dining room tastefully and appropriately decorated for the occasion. One of the most attractive pieces on the dining table was the wedding cake, which was built to the height of about 11 inches and covered with various ornamentations, the prettiest of which was the middle piece, which represented a pair of lovers standing in the center of a horse shoe.

The next thing to occur was the greetings rendered by neighboring ladies and lasses, armed with all kinds of noise-making instruments. This was soon quieted, but immediately the members of the Euterpean orchestra and the clerks from Thomas's grocery, where the groom was formerly employed, began an ear-splitting serenade. This aggregation was not so easily disposed of, and not until they were permitted a glimpse of the bride did they depart. Then came the leave-taking of the guests, with hearty congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Hullinger will spend their honeymoon in St. Louis, after which they will settle down to home life in a previously arranged dwelling on Harrison avenue.

The groom is one of the proprietors of the Hullinger & Co. grocery, at the corner of Elm and Pine streets, and both he and his bride have a legion of friends to wish them smooth sailing in love's bark, "Wedded Bliss."

Unhealthy and Disagreeable.

The south side Times-Democrat representative's attention was called, last evening, to a couple of young men beating a rug, which was hung on the railing which guards the cellarway at the armory. Passers-by were compelled to inhale the unhealthy refuse of the rug, as it was being pounded out, the laborers never ceasing for ladies, men nor beasts. It was suggested that the proper place to do such work would be in the rear of the building, instead of on a public highway, for no doubt the rug had been tramped on, spit on and otherwise inoculated with unhealthy germs.

An Informal Session.

Yesterday Dan Cramer put up his stove for the winter, and the news flew like wildfire, with the result that at 6:30 all members of the Kibby Corner Legislators were on hand, except three—Brother Lego, who is no more in life; Brother Jennings, of Greenlawn, and Brother Alberts, of Pine street.

After choosing officers for the winter, the meeting adjourned, it being thought best to transact no further business on the opening night, out of respect for the departed member.

The officers are: John Van Swearingin, Most Worthing President; Joseph Askins, scribbler of doings; Hillary Napier, doodle guardian.

Brief Notes of Various Kinds.

Mrs. A. J. Platt, president; Mrs. Faze, secretary, and Mrs. W. F. Maltbie, treasurer, are the new officers chosen for the ensuing year by the Ladies' Aid society of Grace church.

Mrs. Mary Cox, of south Elizabeth street, is entertaining Mr. Charles Ruse, of Findlay.

After taking in the big show at St. Louis, Frank McFarland, of west Kibby street, has returned.

Having had a very pleasant visit with Rev. and Mrs. Crist, of south Pine street, the Rev. and Mrs. Askam have returned to Delphos.

Mrs. W. F. Tunc, of Riverside boulevard, has gone to Caney Kansas, to join her husband, who is employed in the oil field near there.

BARBER SHOPS

Unite in Preventing Barber's Itch.

The only preventative ever found for absolutely preventing barber's itch is DeAvis's Imperial Cream, which the best shops throughout the country are introducing as rapidly as they can secure it, and the shops of this city are expected to introduce it at once. It is used on patron's faces after shaving, and being an antiseptic there is positively no danger of contracting barber's itch or any facial disease when it is used. It is a precaution that all shops who regard sanitary effects as paramount should accept. The increased trade that follows its introduction far more than offsets the small cost of the cream. Let it be introduced in the shops of this city at once.

DISFRANCHISEMENT IN OHIO.
The enactment of the law abolishing spring elections will have the effect of disfranchising thousands of voters in Ohio and of causing a still greater number to vote against their better judgment in the cases of many candidates.
As a matter of fact these were the very reasons which prompted the enactment of the law by the republican majority in the late legislature and caused honest members of that party in both houses to publicly repudiate the spirit and objects of the measure.
The disfranchisement of voters will be accomplished by the cumbersome-ness and intricacies of the official ballot in every county, necessary by reason of candidates for state, national and local offices, from president of the United States to township trustee, being thrown together in hopeless confusion. In some counties the abolition of spring elections will make the official ballot at the November election three and four feet long, and in all the counties its size will be such as to bring intelligent voting to a minimum. The illegal or meaningless marking of ballots will be inevitable, and thousands will be thrown out on that account, representing as many voters deliberately disfranchised by the republican legislature of Ohio.
Even a greater evil of this law, however, will be its tendency to make voters vote against their better judgment, and this is what mainly caused its enactment. The republican bosses in the legislature anticipated—and probably rightly—that if the voters of Ohio were given a ballot so cumbersome that the average voter could not examine it in detail within the reasonable time usually occupied in the election booth, thousands of voters would vote a straight ticket who otherwise would "scratch." The republican bosses figured that Ohio was strongly republican in a presidential year, and they would thus gain control of municipal governments and local offices through the medium of the national election—a control which they could not hope to obtain at an exclusively local election.
The republican majority in the legislature consulted the returns of recent elections in this state and became arrogant. They noted a republican pluriality of 92,000 in 1902 and one of 114,000 in 1903. They felt that they could do anything, and so they hesitated at nothing. It is this bald assumption that the republican party can abuse power without a remonstrance on the part of the people of Ohio, which accounts for the existence of such iniquitous statutes as the Chapman law abolishing spring elections. It is this abuse of power and this same impudent assumption that it will not be resented, which will disfranchise thousands of Ohio voters next November and cause others to vote against their own convictions.
No wonder that an earnest appeal goes out to honest republicans to assist in overthrowing this monstrosity of government, and no wonder that that appeal stirs the patriotism of such men in all parties and gives promise of a return to better principles. Every republican vote cast for a democrat this year will be a protest against the kind of government represented by the Chapman law.
DEPENDS LARGELY ON THE OX.
A clerk of the English embassy, Hugh Gurney, by name, was recklessly and defiantly running his automobile in defiance of the restrictions of the law and a Massachusetts judge fined him $10. Grave international complications were threatened; the judge and the state of Massachusetts apologized, the fine was remitted and the United States government also apologized.
Arthur Don Platt, American vice consul at Dublin, rode his motor bicycle recklessly along the road near that city. He was arrested and fined 10 shillings. He had to pay. No apology was demanded. No international complications impended.
Gurney was a spring of the nobility. Platt was nothing but an Ohio boy, a son of John James Platt, the poet, and neither Uncle Sam nor John Bull thought it worth while to make a note as to the American—Columbus Citizen.
President Roosevelt declared in his letter of acceptance that there was "no common law in this country." This, too, as a bit of information for Judge Parker. American lawyers who have been studying and practicing under the common law during all their professional career will not vote for Roosevelt on the ground that he knows anything about law. They will have to find some other ground on which to support him.

MONEY
To Be Paid Over on Sale of Bonds,
Manager F. O. Olson, and Secretary G. A. Smith, of Kenton, officials of the Sandusky and Southwestern Electric Company, have gone to Cleveland to receive the first payment of $150, 000 on the Sandusky Western Electric Railway bonds, says the Wapak-oneta Democrat. The company has just completed the route of its proposed system of electric lines in this vicinity. One line is to run from Bellefontaine to Lima, another from Wapakoneta by way of Roundhead to Kenton, another by way of Ada and Alger to Kenton.
The result of the crossing of the Wapakoneta-Kenton and Bellefontaine-Lima lines will probably be a new village to be called Meunston at their junction. To J. A. Koons, of Indianapolis, has been awarded the contract for the building of the entire system to be completed within four months.
Mr. Koons is now in Wapakoneta looking after the work, which will be pushed east from the corporation line.
Tools and machinery in large quantities have already arrived.

GAITREE GETS
IT IN NECK.
Former Superintendent of Rural Delivery in Ohio Indicted by Federal Grand Jury.
Cincinnati, Oct. 7.—Wm. B. Gaitree, formerly superintendent of rural delivery for Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, was indicted by the federal grand jury today on a technical charge of embezzling $54 in purchasing a bling case for his Cincinnati office.
Mr. Gaitree says the case was not paid for when purchased. The $54 was included in his monthly statement. When the warrant was received from the post office department Mr. Gaitree says he cashed it as usual and through an oversight forgot to pay for the case. Later, the bill for the case passed through his hands and was marked correct.
When the duplication was discovered in Washington, Mr. Gaitree corrected and paid the bill.

HIGH VALUE IS PLACED

On the Kindness and Sympathy of Nannie B. McQuoun in Faurot Will.

Executor Ordered to Pay Her the Sum of $10,000 Out of His Estate, But the Will Does Not Give any Account of Possible Assets.

The will of the late E. C. Faurot is on file in the probate judge's office and the deceased in five different items disposes of such of his estate as was left after the long series of reverses which marked the late years of his life. No statement of possible assets is given in the instrument, but provision is made for such distribution of funds as may come into possession of Joshua M. Dawson, of Cincinnati, who is named as executor. The will bears date of April 27, 1901, and was witnessed by J. E. Grosjean and Henry W. Neff.

He provides in them, first for the payment of all expenses attending his last illness and funeral expenses, the same to be taken from an insurance policy valued at $2,500. A monument to cost not more than $1,500 is also provided for, and the balance is to be used to pay Nannie B. McQuoun for money due her.

The will states that since the deceased made provision in life for his daughters, they and the four children of Carrie B. Baxter are to receive the sum of one dollar.

He assigns and transfers all his rights in the C. L. & M. railroad to his executor, and when the same is converted into money, $10,000 shall be paid to Mrs. Nannie B. McQuoun "in recognition for her kindness and sympathy toward me in the various trials of recent years." Should the railroad interests not produce sufficient to pay that compensation, the will provides that it shall be paid out of the general assets of the estate.

Item four, gives to Wm. Bond, the man in the employ of the deceased, the sum of $2,000.

The rest and residue of the estate is left to the executor to be used to adjust and settle the estate, and litigate all claims and demands. After payment of just debts the balance of the estate is to be divided into eight parts and paid equally to the brothers and sisters of the deceased, and to the child and children of each. The executor of the estate is asked to convert the estate into money, and carry out the provisions of the will as rapidly as possible.

Entitled to Decree.

The first divorce suit presented since the opening of court was brought to the attention of Judge Cunningham yesterday, who granted the decree prayed for by Sarah E. Combs. Evidence was introduced to substantiate the charge of wilful absence on the part of the husband, John W. Combs. The plaintiff is a resident of Delphos.

Sober and Released.

Geo. May, who is old enough to know better, has a habit of looking at the wine when it is red and has just completed a jail term because of drunkenness. He was sent up by the mayor, and was released this morning.

Twenty-one Still Remain.

The transfer of the five boys to the Lancaster Reformatory School, and the release of Geo. May from the county jail this morning, leaves twenty-one prisoners yet to be disposed of and all but one or two are waiting for the report of the grand jury to determine whether they are likely to have their confinement prolonged.

Took a Recess.

The grand jury adjourned yesterday evening until noon today on account of the funeral of a relative of Jarymar Philo Bassett, of Bath township. They reported for duty after the noon hour and are the procession of witnesses from the clerk's office to the jury room continues.

BAD

Condition Found to Exist

As a Menace

To The General Health Of the City.

Repairs to be Made at Once At the Water Works Pump Station.

Waste Water From the Station Threatened to Contaminate the Supply of Water Pumped Into the Mains.

There was some tall hustling around the headquarters of the board of public service in the city building last night and today, when it became known through the health department that a dangerous unsanitary condition had been discovered at the Main water works station on east North street, threatening to contaminate the water pumped into the city mains. The matter was hurriedly investigated and today the board of public service awarded a contract to Blodgett & Hardin for some sewer work that is intended to improve the situation at once.

It is reported that waste water from the engine rooms at the pump station has been finding its way into the well at the pump station, and that other drainage in a retaining vault threatened to contaminate the city water and the matter was very hurriedly investigated when reported to the health department.

The unsanitary conditions which doubtless prevailed for some time before being discovered by the health department, are really serious and one physician who is in possession of knowledge concerning it, says that nearly every case of typhoid fever in the city could be attributed to this cause.

No Diphtheria.

Health Officer Dr. Jones announced today that the last case of diphtheria in the city had been discharged, and that only two houses are still placarded as precaution against any further spreading of the disease.

More Smallpox.

Three new cases of smallpox have developed at the home of Clarence Hawk, on north Park avenue, where Mrs. Hawk has just recovered from an attack of the disease. The new patients are Mr. Hawk, his mother and his sister, all whom have been under quarantine since the first case developed.

A New Typhoid Case.

Mrs. A. L. Sands, of the French hotel, was taken to the City hospital today. She is suffering an attack of typhoid fever.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. Elizabeth Johnston, of Collins avenue, is recovering from a serious sick spell.

Lewis Day and family have changed their place of residence from Collins avenue to east end of Vine street.

Miss Maud Miller, of Broadway, is visiting her uncle in Lin county, Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dibling were called to Perryburg today by the death of Mrs. Wm. Dibling.

Mrs. J. Boyle, of Providence, R. I., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Theo. D. Robb, of west Market street.

Hon. and Mrs. L. O. McLane, of Linesville, Pa., are guests of Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Curry, at the Main street Presbyterian manse. Mr. McLane is a member of the Pennsylvania legislature, and was renominated for reelection this fall. He has an extensive hardware business in western Pennsylvania. They are returning from the fair at St. Louis.

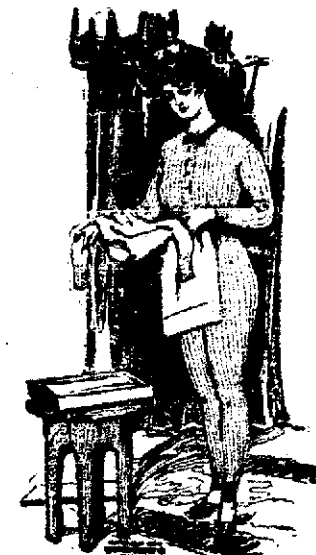

ARRESTED DESERTERS.

Three Men Who Escaped From Battleship Missouri Captured by Bradford Police.

Columbus, O., Oct. 7.—Geo. Heidel, J. J. Anderson and Grover Cleveland Little deserters from the battleship Missouri, were arrested last night at Bradford, Ohio, by the railroad police. The prisoners were brought to Columbus and at once taken east. The trio escaped from the Missouri on the night of September 23rd, by swimming ashore from the vessel as she lay in the offing of Boston harbor.

Where Do You Buy Your Clothes?

This is a very important matter and still many men appear to think it is of no consequence. They buy just anywhere they happen to see something that strikes their fancy. But, there's a difference in stores, as well as in clothes. Some stores go in for "cheapness," others for "quality."

Which Do You Prefer?

"You pay your money and take your choice." If it is smartness of style, perfection of fit, reliability, at a fair price you're after, then this is the clothing store for you.

THE STAGE.

"Buster Brown," which is a farce, a musical comedy and a spectacle all in one, will be presented at the Faurot opera house tonight. Mr. Melville B. Raymond, the well-known manager, has secured from the New York Herald and Richard F. Outcault, the sole rights of dramatizing the humorous incidents of Buster's life. Nearly all of us have enjoyed Buster, and are ready to take his stage representation to our hearts. That we shall have a good performance of this part is assured by the fact that America's leading little comedian, Master Gabriel, will be Buster. Then, too, we are to have that famous animal impersonator, George All, as the dog Tike. There is an elaborate scenic setting and some sixty people are engaged in the performance, including a chorus, a ballet and a bevy of "American Beauties." The original company, that has just finished a five weeks' season at the Great Northern, Chicago,

FOUND IT EASY

TO AVOID JAPANESE.

Tsingtau, Oct. 7, (noon).—The German steamer Progress, chartered by a local German, and which left here 26 days ago with a general cargo consigned to Vladivostok, returned from that port today, and reported that it found it easy to elude the Japanese ships in that vicinity. She reported that a number of large ships have been there recently, with stores of coal and ammunition. The city of Vladivostok is quiet, and the Russians seem depressed over their land and sea reverses. Vladivostok is being heavily fortified, the harbor is being mined and repairing of the damaged ships is going on. It is believed that it will be impossible to put the armored cruiser Rossia in a sea-worthy condition.

It is stated in Vladivostok that General Kuropatkin has been very ill and unable to personally command his army since the battle of Lia Yang.

TWO

Straights Won By Pittsburgh, Dropping Reds

To Fourth Place in the Pennant Race.

Cincinnati Has Only a Desperate Chance to Regain Third Place.

Must Win All of the Series to Be Played With the Cardinals. Chicago at Pittsburgh. Today. Other Games.

While the Reds were resting yesterday Pittsburgh took two falls out of St. Louis, and by grace of the velvet thus gained, the Pirates have passed Cincinnati, and once more the Reds are in the old family four hole, with only a desperate chance to get out. The figures today are:

Clubs	Won	Lost	P. C.
Pittsburgh	85	65	.567
Cincinnati	84	65	.564

The Reds have four and Pittsburgh three more games to play. Should they both clean up the whole lot, the best Cincinnati could do would be to tie the Pirates—both netting .571 on such a performance. Should Pittsburgh win two out of three, and the Reds three out of four, another tie at .568 would result. Two defeats for Pittsburgh and one Pirate victory would require three Red wins over the Cardinals to enable Cincinnati to move ahead .568 to .562, while with the same Pirate-club apportionment an even break in St. Louis would enable the Reds to hitch their wagon to a .562 tie. Rain may cut a figure in the final outcome, and prevent play. On the face of the returns the Pirates have the bulge, and the Reds cannot repeat their gift show performance at Exposition Park, and carry off the candy. St. Jacob Beckley will bend every energy to throw the Reds down, and it is up to Manager Kel and his charges to help themselves out of the box in which they are now handcuffed. The value of every game lost can best be understood at such a critical stage and play as this when thousands of wagers in Redland hinge on the outcome of the four games in Missouri. Kel and the Reds must now help themselves.

Made in the Name of the Celina Suicide.

Victim Was Ex-Sheriff Timmons, But Was Published as J. F. Killen.

The Times-Democrat was in error yesterday in giving an account of the suicide at Celina, difficulty in catching a report over the telephone accounting for a mistake in names. The victim of the rash act was ex-Sheriff J. F. Timmons, instead of J. F. Killen, as appeared in the publication. No new features have developed, except that in one of the notes left he stated that some people might say he was insane, but that he was rational and knew just what he was doing.

TORMENTING RHEUMATISM

Columbus, Ohio, May 20, 1903. Six years ago I had a severe attack of inflammatory Rheumatism. I was laid up in bed for six months, and the doctors I had did me no good. They changed medicines every week and nothing they prescribed seemed to help me. Finally I began the use of S. S. S. My knee and elbow joints were swollen terribly, and at one time my joints were so swollen and painful that I could not close them when opened. I was so bad that I could not move knee or foot. I was getting discouraged, you may be sure, when I began S. S. S., but as I saw it was helping me I continued it, and to-day I am a sound well man and have never had a return of the disease. S. S. S. purified my blood and cured me of this severe case of Rheumatism after everything else had failed. I have recommended it to others with good results. R. H. CHAPMAN, 1355 Mt. Vernon Ave.

The poisonous acids that produce the inflammation and pain are absorbed into the blood and Rheumatism can never be conquered till these are neutralized and filtered out of the blood and system. S. S. S. goes directly into the circulation and attacks the disease itself. It purifies and restores the blood to a healthy, vigorous condition. It contains no potash, alkali or other strong minerals, but is guaranteed entirely vegetable. Write us and our physicians will advise with out a charge whatever. Our book on Rheumatism sent free.

NEED

Of Stronger Coal
Gates

Clearly Shown

By the Results of Head
End Collisions.Fatality of Last Sunday's Wreck Recalls Other
AccidentsIn Which Firemen Were Placed Against Boilerheads and Scalded to Death—General Railroad News.

Since last Sunday's fatal wreck on the L. E. & W. railroad men have again taken up the question of the necessity of stronger coal gates for locomotive tenders. The old style wooden gates have never been found strong enough to hold back a full tank of coal in the event of a head end collision of any considerable force and from this cause many engineers have been killed, being buried against boilerheads under an avalanche of coal. In this manner Fireman William McClellan, of the L. E. & W. lost his life in a head end collision at Red Key, Ind., in the same manner, Fireman Miller, of the C. & E., was killed when train 13 ran away and collided with a local freight engine in the yards here a few years ago, and the same deplorable fate befell Fireman Victor Carrig last Sunday.

A gang of construction men is at work putting down twelve miles of new seventy-five pound rails on the C. H. & D. road between West Cairo and Ottawa. When this strip is completed the men will put down eight miles of new steel between Sidney and Kirkwood.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Ft. Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville railroad, a branch of the L. E. & W. was held at Muncie yesterday. The old board of directors, consisting of the following men, was re-elected:

Wm. K. Vanderbilt, F. W. Vanderbilt, W. H. Newman, Hamilton McK Twombly, J. Pierpont Morgan, McK Brown, George F. Baker, Henry W. Cannon, and Chas. F. Cox.

The boilermakers of the C. & E. shops at Huntington went out on a strike yesterday in sympathy with the boilermakers who went out from the Erie shops at Gallon. Nearly all of the men of this trade employed on the Erie system are now out. It is reported that the company will ask the men to return to their places and will attempt to fill their places with non-union men in the event that the strikers remain firm.

Enormous Contracts Let.

The Pennsylvania railroad company has awarded contracts for six hundred steel hopper coal cars to the Pressed Steel Car Company and the Canfield Steel Company, each concern to build three hundred eighty passenger coaches will be built in its various shops in Ft. Wayne, Wilmington, Del. and Altoona, and at the Meadow shops in New Jersey. Orders have also been issued for the building at the Altoona shops of twenty-five powerful freight engines to be used on the lines west of Pittsburgh.

Notes.

George Smith, formerly a fireman on the Lake Erie & Western, is in a hospital in St. Louis suffering an attack of inflammatory rheumatism. He has been in the hospital five or six weeks but expects to be able to return to this city within a short time. His home is on east Kibby street.

The famous Lake Shore observation car passed through this city yesterday east bound, with a number of the Lake Shore officials on board, on their way to Cleveland. The car is built over a locomotive boiler and is constructed in such a manner that persons riding in it can obtain a good view from within at all times.

Freight business is becoming quite heavy on the L. E. & W. and the eight new class B-3 trucks engines that are expected to arrive here soon will be placed in commission as soon as possible. Work in the shops is also getting heavier and retrenching is thought to be over for the remainder of the year.

The annual inspection of the Pennsylvania line west of Pittsburgh will be started soon from Columbus. The officials making the inspection will go to Chicago from Columbus via Dayton, Richmond and Lehigh and will return east through this city, over the P. Ft. W. & C. line.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 7.—Rowland C. Hill, an insurance agent, was shot and instantly killed by Den Gilliam, a negro today. The latter immediately surrendered to the police. Hill, it is alleged, had persistently forced his attentions upon Mrs. Emma Leonard, who keeps a grocery store, and sought refuge in Gilliam's yard. Hill entered the yard, it is said, with the avowed intention of taking Mrs. Leonard back to her store. The negro seized a shot gun and killed Hill.

THE MARKETS.

New York, Oct. 7.—The majority of stocks today were slightly lower at the opening, but notable strength in a few prominent issues proved a partly offsetting influence. Reading was run up 1 1/4 in the first minutes and St. Paul opened up 1/2. N. Pac., Southern Pacific and Amalgamated Copper also showed small gains. U. S. Steel preferred opened wide on the sale of 6,000 shares at 74 1/2 and 74 3/4, compared with 75 1/2 last night and the sale of a 5,000 share block of Erie carried it down 1/2.

Profit taking carried back Reading and the other leaders a point or more, reducing most of the gains to fractions. Some stocks which had not moved, which fell below last night. Metropolitan securities rose 1/2, the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Saint Ste Marie stocks 1/2, and Westinghouse 1/4. St. Louis Southwestern preferred and Consolidated Gas lost 1/2. The closing was dull and easy.

Robbed The Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated with mucus continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at H. F. Vorkamp's drug store, corner Main and N 14th streets.

Some Seasonable Advice.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by all druggists.

THE WORD "CHIC."

Probably Derived From a German Word Meaning Clever.
The word "chic," which comes to us through the French, but is probably derived from the German geschick, clever, smart, has no exact equivalent in our language. Murray, in his stand and work, suggests as another possible derivation that it may be an abbreviation of chicane, in the sense of a detour or turn.
"Chic" used either as a substantive or as an adjective, implies such style and clever finish as gives an air of distinction to a person or thing and marks some excellence of fashion or taste. Applied to the fine arts it denotes the faculty of producing effective work with ease and skill, and from this its society application to correct grace and elegance and smartness follows very naturally.
Lever, in "The Martins of Zoum," says: "The French have invented a slang word, and by 'chic' have designated a certain property by which objects assert their undoubted superiority over all their counterparts."
Some have connected the word with the Spanish chico, or chico, a diminutive expressive of approval—London Standard.

RENOUNCED THE VIOLIN.

Wellington Never Touched It After He Became a Field Officer.
The Duke of Wellington played the violin as a subaltern, but gave it up when he became a field officer. The reason for this renunciation is supplied by the following extract from a letter written by Mrs. Stuart Mackenzie to the Duke of Sutherland in 1852: "Every one knows that to the last the duke was fond and a fine judge of music. In youth he was a performer on the violin, that, giving up a great deal of time to it, he began to fear lest the hereditary taste should get the better of him, and in one day he broke the spell, laid aside his violin and never afterwards touched it. This circumstance occurred during the time of his early attachment to my dear friend the duchess, who has often repeated it to me with pride as an omen of what was to be expected from his great self command and firmness of decision."
It may be added that the Duke of Wellington inherited his love of music from his father, Lord Mornington, who was a doctor of music and a composer of no small merit—Pearson's.

How to Cure Corns and Bunions.
First soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn a few days to protect it from the sun. As a general household remedy, Chamberlain's Pain Balm is invaluable.

COAL DRIVERS
STRIKE RESULTS

In Violence, One Non-Union Driver
Being Badly Hurt—Poor Suffering.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 7.—The strike of three hundred coal drivers here was accompanied by violence today. One non-union driver was badly hurt, being assaulted as he was hauling coal. There were two arrests for interference with other drivers. With the thermometer close to the freezing point, the poorer classes in the city are all shivering in the suburbs, as the coal companies are unable to make deliveries.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Do you find it difficult to handle your classes? Do your boys and girls show a lack of interest? Do you find a difficulty in giving them something to do? Are you making the most of your opportunity? Let us help you. Do you feel so involved with your church work that you will give one evening to the study of methods applicable to the work you have in hand? This must be a great year for Sunday school advancement in Lima. The teachers can make it such. This is work for your own church.

The city Sunday school association has organized, for the coming winter, a teachers' training school under the instruction of Dr. J. M. Avann, meeting at the Y. M. C. A. every Friday evening at 7 o'clock. One half hour will be devoted to the study of the international Lesson for the Sunday following and one half hour to Sunday school methods and management. It is hoped that every Sunday school in the city will take advantage of this opportunity. Do present Friday night, October 7, 1904, at 7 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. and learn more about this work. Every superintendent in the city should be present and see that his teachers come.

The Primary Union will meet the same evening in another room in the Y. M. C. A. for the study of methods of teaching applicable to primary teachers. A good program is being arranged for Friday night, Oct. 7, 1904. Let every primary teacher be present.

Sick headache is caused by a disordered condition of the stomach and is quickly cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by all druggists.

Evening.

Boarder at Owner's House

geant Bacom and Patrolman

Pleads Not Guilty.

Cam Pearson, a well known south-side character, who has a criminal record, was arrested by Sergeant Bacom and Patrolman Jackson about 6 o'clock last evening on a charge of chicken stealing. This morning he waived his right to a preliminary examination and was bound over to the grand jury. He is now a prisoner in the county jail.

It is charged that Pearson went into a chicken house at the home of Mrs.
Mary Carter on Forest avenue early last evening and had pulled the heads off of three fowls before he was put to flight by H. A. Pool, a neighbor at the Carter home, who had seen him enter the chicken house. Pool tried to catch Pearson out the latter got away from him and Pool then notified the police. A few minutes later Officer Bacom and Jackson found Pearson in a south Main street saloon and arrested him.

Pearson has served two terms in the penitentiary—one for horse stealing and one for criminally assaulting his divorced wife. Police Officer Chas.
Bilsum was in search of Pearson on a horse stealing case when he got entangled into the affair that led to his arrest from the police force.

DAMAGE

Done by Fire in the Hetrick
Block Last Night,

Flames Originated From An Unknown Source in the Morris Wall Paper Store.

Considerable damage was done to the stock in the Morris wall paper store in the Hetrick block on west
Market street early this morning.
The fire started in the rear part of the store in the midst of paints, oils and wall paper and its origin is not known there having been no fire in the store in the room for some time.
The flames were discovered at 1:15 o'clock and the central fire department was called to the scene. The fire had gained such headway that the department found it necessary to throw considerable water and this added largely to the damage done to the stock. The flames were extinguished however before any serious damage was done to the building.
